YONKERS PARTNERS IN EDUCATION (YPIE) SCHOLARS PRESENT SCIENCE RESEARCH PROJECTS AT YPIE REGENERON STEM SYMPOSIUM

WHAT: Yonkers Partners in Education \(YPIE\), a not-for-profit that partners with students to ensure they are ready for, enroll in, and complete college, will hold its 2nd Annual YPIE Regeneron STEM Symposium on Tuesday, May 28th.

The YPIE Regeneron STEM Institute is funded through a generous grant from Regeneron Pharmaceuticals. YPIE Regeneron STEM Scholars research and collect data on their topic of choice during this three-year program and earn up to 12 college credits.

More than 25 10th-12th grade students from across the Yonkers Public High Schools will present their authentic science research, including environmental science, cellular and molecular science, medicine and health, behavioral science, and computer science and engineering. Several YPIE Seniors have received awards for their projects and intend to continue their scientific studies as they start college in the fall.

YPIE Regeneron STEM Scholars work closely with mentors from several organizations, including Iona College, Mount Sinai, The New York Botanical Garden, New York Medical College, Sarah Lawrence College, and Teatown Reservation.

WHEN: Tuesday, May 28th, 5:30 – 7:00pm

WHERE: YPIE College Zone
92 Main Street, Yonkers, New York

WHO: Speakers will include:
Potoula Stavropoulos, Director, Corporate Citizenship, Regeneron
Dr. Lisa Purcell, Senior Staff Scientist, Regeneron
Dr. Edwin Quezada, Superintendent, Yonkers Public Schools

PHOTOS: YPIE Regeneron STEM Scholars will be available for photos and interviews
