

CBS-FM disc-jockey, Don K. Reid checks out information on the jacket of "Old Gold Soul-14 Karat" the recently-released Jamaican rhythm & blues album on the Studio One label. The scene is the studios of CBS-FM in New York city, where a presentation of the album was made to CBS by Clement "Coxsone" Dodd, the producer of the album and owner of Studio One/Coxsone Records. Looking on at center is Julian "Jingles" Reynolds, the Jamaican-born writer, and the marketing director for Studio One/Coxsone Records. CBS-FM is celebrating 16 years of playing vintage rock & roll and rhythm & blues music, and has included the song "Live and Love" by John Holt and the Paragons from the "Old Gold Soul" album. It's the first time that the station has accepted for playing an album that was not produced by an American or British record company.
