Hi Chuck – I really appreciate the update. We are in panic mode over here with supply dwindling so your communication is beyond helpful. Please keep me updated on a daily basis. I am so very grateful. Sincerely, Mark

Hi Mark,

We are looking at starting next week. Equipment is in the process of being cleaned and raws have been ordered for both the engineering and commercial batches. Once we get started, there shouldn't be any interruption of the supply. The ribofuranose is here and the nicotinamide is expected shortly. I'll update you when everything is here and when we start.

-Chuck

Hi Chuck - How are we looking on a starting date? What is the status on the raws for the engineering batches and the commercial batches. I really appreciate it. Sincerely, Mark
