GOVERNMENT MULLING REMOVING WOLF HUNTING LIMITS

Courtesy of Peace FM

The B.C. government could soon be to removing the limit for wolf hunting in the Peace Region.

Right now, the limit on the amount of wolves a hunter can kill is three — and wolf hunting is in season nearly all year, closing only from June 15 until August 15. The Ministry of Forests, Lands, and Natural Resources Operations posted the proposal to the government website last week.

According to data collected between the year 2000 and 2010, about 275 wolves are hunted and trapped annually in the Peace Region. The Ministry says those numbers are roughly 14 per cent of the conservative estimate of 2,000 wolves in the region.

The decision is pending, and the proposal's closing date is Dec. 31.

As the bus slowed down at the crowded bus stop, the bus conductor leaned from the platform and called out, "Six only!" The bus stopped. He counted on six passengers, rang the bell, and then, as the bus moved off, called to those left behind: "So sorry, plenty of room in my heart — but the bus is full." He left behind a row of smiling faces. It's not what you do, it's the way that you do it.

*He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much;
who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children;
who has filled his niche and accomplished his task; who has left the world better than he found it, whether by an improved poppy, a perfect poem, or a rescued soul; who has never lacked appreciation of earth's beauty or failed to express it; who has always looked for the best in others and given them the best he had; whose life was an inspiration; whose memory a benediction.*

Don't be yourself — be someone a little nicer.

Snowflake made his appearance on Friday December 11 at the Pencil Box. Being ever professional, Snowflake kept a straight face while Pastor Bill gave him a good talking to, then he carried on and did his job. Ruth Hill was the lucky winner of the 1 night stay for 2 at Lakeview Inn & Suites, $100 gift certificate for the Red Lion, $25 gift certificate for A&W, 2 movie tickets for the Rex, a bottle of wine from Murray's Pub & Kitchen and other goodies from the Pencil Box. Enjoy!!!

A big thank you to Pastor Bill for judging the event, to Margo McFarlane for bringing in Snowflake, and of course, a big thank you to Snowflake. Without you this would not have been possible!!
