SITE C CONSTRUCTION COULD SEE DELAYS WITH REQUIRED PERMITS

BC Hydro continues to face delays in receiving the permits it needs to start construction on the Site C dam.

According to a Globe and Mail report, dozens of permits are being held up by Treaty 8 First Nations who are continuing an independent review of the permit applications, and demanding "meaningful consultation" on the project. According to the report, those consultation sessions were set to wrap at the end of May, but member nations have yet to agree on a framework for the consultations, and are in no rush to do so.

West Moberly First Nations Chief Roland Wilson told the Globe in an interview his community's review of the permits could take up to a year.

Hydro has already awarded contracts for crew housing along the banks of the river, along with a land clearing contract to clear some 700 hectares of trees and vegetation in the dam's proposed flood zone. Hydro wants the river banks cleared as soon as possible so construction of temporary coffer dams can take place to divert the river. That work can apparently only take place between August and September, according to the Globe.

Premier Christy Clark has said her government will not budge on the timeline to build the dam.

BC Hydro needs about 45 provincial permits before it can start the first phase of construction.

STUDENTS LURED ON SOCIAL MEDIA

The RCMP is encouraging parents to talk to their children about appropriateness on social media after two students have reported getting inappropriate and potentially illegal images from an unknown person.

Fort St. John RCMP have received information that two students have received messages and images on both Facebook and a texting app in the last week. The suspect is sending inappropriate pictures and asking the students to send back images of themselves.

Police are asking anyone who may have received these images to contact them at 250-787-8100. It is believed the person sending these images is in another province. The RCMP is still investigating and working with Facebook and the app producer to find the person behind the messages.

A fellow approached a popular local politician in a hotel lobby and asked for a small favor. The politician always wanting to help someone out was more than happy to oblige.

The fellow, introduced himself as Bob Smith and said "I'm having a very important business meeting in a few minutes, and it's very important that I impress them. If you can just come over during our meeting and say hello I would be forever indebted to you!"

So a few minutes later, the politician walked over to the fellow with a big smile on his face and said "Hi Bob!"

He barely got the words out of his mouth when Bob looked up with an annoyed expression, "DON'T BOTHER ME NOW CHRIS. CAN'T YOU SEE I'M IN THE MIDDLE OF AN IMPORTANT MEETING?!"

Your lucky day this week will be Wednesday.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21) Don't expect new acquaintances to be completely honest about themselves. You need time to rejuvenate. Invite friends or relatives into your home. This is not the best day to visit relatives who get on your nerves. Your lucky day this week will be Tuesday.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 -Sept. 23) Be sure you get accurate information. Your tendency to dramatize may be a little much for your partner to take constantly. Social events will be favorable. Don't lend or borrow money or belongings. Your lucky day this week will be Tuesday.

A store owner was tacking a sign above his door that read: "Puppies For Sale". Signs like that have a way of attracting small children and sure enough, a little boy appeared under the store owner's sign.

"How much are you going to sell the puppies for?" he asked.

The store owner replied, "Anywhere from $30 to $50."

The little boy reached in his pocket and pulled out some change.

"I have $2.37," he said. "Can I please look at them?"

The store owner smiled and whistled and out of the kennel came Lady, who ran out in the aisle of his store followed by five teeny, tiny balls of fur. One puppy was lagging considerably behind.

Immediately the little boy singled out the lagging, limping puppy and said, "What's wrong with that little dog?"

The store owner explained that the veterinarian had examined the little puppy and had discovered it didn't have a hip socket. It would always be lame.

The little boy became excited. "That is the puppy that I want to buy."

The store owner said, "No, you don't want to buy that little dog. If you really want him, I'll just give him to you."

The little boy got quite upset. He looked straight into the store owner's eyes, pointing his finger, and said, "I don't want you to give him to me. That little dog is worth every bit as much as all the other dogs and I'll pay full price. In fact, I'll give you $2.37 now, and 50 cents a month until I have him paid for."

The store owner countered, "You really don't want to buy this little dog. He is never going to be able to run and jump and play with you like the other puppies."

To his surprise, the little boy reached down and rolled up his pant leg to reveal a badly twisted, crippled left leg supported by a big metal brace. He looked up at the store owner and softly replied, "Well, I don't run so well myself, and the little puppy will need someone who understands."

Don't we all need someone who understands?
