PICKLEBALL, MORE FUN THAN YOU'D THINK

On Wednesday, July 18th, I had the pleasure of meeting with Janet Wark, Chetwynd's Liaison for the BC 55+ Games Committee Zone 12, and some pickleball players just learning the ropes. The committee holds meetings in each town and city within BC's 55+ games- zone 12 where they go over the important details in the meeting and then get to kick back with some lunch and demonstrate one of the many games that are held in BC's 55+ games in Kimberley and Cranbrook, BC each year. This year marks the 31st annual 55+ BC Games, where over 2,500 athletes will compete in 23 sports in September.

This time, it was Chetwynd's turn to hold the meeting. In anticipation of the committee's meeting, Chetwynd's tennis court and pickleball court were prepared and the horseshoe pit at the Pine Valley Seniors's Hall was revamped with help from Russ Young and his donation of lime rock for the pit's base.

The ladies who decided to join in had an opportunity to learn how to play and I got a brief lesson myself as well. To be honest, I had heard of pickleball but never really realized how much fun it would be. While I was not wearing the proper footwear I decided to join in with my heels anyways. The court is about half the size of a tennis court and I would consider the game to be a mix between tennis and ping pong. The rackets are like ping pong rackets and the court is similar to a tennis court. But I'd have to say the name doesn't do it justice, it is a good cardio work out and great for your coordination which by the name you would not initially assume.

Chetwynd's Rec Centre offers drop in pickleball in the curling arena throughout the summer if you want to drop by and check it out for yourself.

CHETWYND'S ROD & GUN CLUBS DONATES TO COMMUNITY

This year, Chetwynd's Rod and Gun Club held their annual Father's Day Shoot. But it was the first year the club was not associated with Ducks Unlimited, allowing them the opportunity to give the proceeds from the competition back to the community.

The Rod & Gun Club were able to present four organizations with a hefty donation of $1000 each. (pictured above) Reverend Bill Hendley and wife Pauline from Mickey's Place accepting their cheque. Donna Deck was there on behalf of Chetwynd's Senior Housing Society. Pam Engelland was on hand to represent Kisport for their cheque. The Chetwynd Public Library had Melissa Millsap, Brenda and Teanna Lukey and Jocelyn Disher to accept their donation.

"After all these groups do for the community, it's nice to be able to give back." says the Chetwynd Rod & Gun Club's President Justin Harmacek who presented the organizations with their cheques.

Kelsey Roberts, reporter Coffee Talk Express

"Someone once told me that 'time' is a predator that stalks us all our lives. But I rather believe that time is a companion who goes with us on the journey and reminds us to cherish every moment because it will never come again."

COLLISION ON JACKFISH LAKE ROAD

On July 17, 2018 at about 5:30 pm, the Chetwynd Fire Department along with the police and emergency crews responded to a two-vehicle head on collision on the Jackfish Lake Road. A local resident and a worker collided and both drivers sustained serious injuries. Both drivers had to be extricated from their vehicles. The Chetwynd Fire Department assisted the ambulance by driving for them as there were not enough BCAS paramedics in Chetwynd. Two industrial ambulances assisted initially and were of great assistance. Motorists are being reminded to drive carefully as the roads are busy with tourists and gas and oil employees as well as regular residents.

PROVINCE IMPROVES ACCESS TO EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION TRAINING ONLINE

More students around the province will soon have access to online training opportunities to become early childhood educators, thanks to an expansion of the program offered through the faculty of education at the University of British Columbia.

“By expanding the number of students in UBC’s early childhood education training program, we are helping students get into rewarding careers with the skills and knowledge to give the children in their care a brighter tomorrow,” said Melanie Mark, Minister of Advanced Education, Skills and Training. “The part-time online program gives students the flexibility to work education into their busy lives, and improves access to post-secondary education.”

With a $350,000 investment over three years, the B.C. government is helping UBC add a new part-time early childhood education (ECE) certificate program online for 72 students. The first group of 36 students will begin in September 2018 and the second will begin in January 2019.

“The majority of a child’s brain development happens in the first six years of life, and that’s why it’s so important to improve children’s access to quality early learning experiences,” said Katrine Conroy, Minister of Children and Family Development. “That’s also why providing flexible educational options for ECE students, who want to care for young children, is so important. As a former ECE, I know that these new virtual seats will make a huge difference to the B.C. parents who will be able to access high-quality care for their kids.”

Based on the 2017 Labour Market Outlook, B.C. will need 9,100 additional early childhood educators by 2027. Training quality early childhood educators is key to ensuring that B.C. children have access to quality early childhood education programs in communities throughout B.C.

“We greatly appreciate this funding support from the government,” said Blye Frank, dean of UBC’s faculty of education. “This funding allows us to expand the opportunities to study for a rewarding career in early childhood care and learning for more education students, both by offering more student spaces and also enhancing accessibility to training through the new online program.”

Quick Facts:

- Childcare BC outlines the Province’s $1-billion investment over three years to help lay the foundation for a universal child care system that will provide B.C. parents with access to quality, affordable child care wherever and whenever they need it.

- Funding for the expansion at the faculty of education at UBC is part of the $7.4 million over three years that the Ministry of Advanced Education, Skills and Training has committed to fund an additional 620 early childhood educator graduates at public post-secondary institutions throughout B.C.
