SITE C JOB FAIR IN CHETWYND - LARGE TURNOUT

Hundreds of eager applicants flocked to the Cottonwood Room Wednesday at the Chetwynd Recreation Centre for a chance to get their foot in the door for one of the many jobs created by the Site C Dam Project. According to BC Hydro, the Site C workforce will grow from its current number of over 600 workers to around 1600-1800 at its peak.

Representatives ranging from the Peace River Hydro Partners, the central employer, to Securiguard and Duz Cho Construction and Logging, set up tables to accept resumes, and provide information to job seekers. According to BC Hydro's Bob Gammer, the previous day's job fair in Tumbler Ridge saw over 360 people and over 400 people in Chetwynd, with many coming from surrounding areas in the hopes of getting a head-start on other applicants.

The Site C Dam is being welcomed by many in the Peace Region who have struggled to find employment due to the recent economic downturn. Jim Schilling of Peace River Hydro Partners said the job fairs are a great opportunity for them to create a backlog of resumes, allowing them to group people by their relevant skillsets to find the best possible fit, and he hopes to hire 600 people by the fall.

The dam is expected to be completed in roughly 8 years, around 2023-2024, with 1600 workers living on-site at the worker camps, which are currently still under construction. Bob Gammer highlighted the emphasis they are planning on hiring local, regional and aboriginal workers to ensure the Peace Region maximizes the benefits of the project. Anyone applying should be aware that these are job fairs are not hiring fairs, and most applicants will hear back regarding potential employment in 6-8 weeks. If you missed the Chetwynd Job Fair there are additional fairs planned in Dawson Creek, Fort St. John, Prince George, Quesnel, Mackenzie and Fort Nelson between now and March 2nd.

MEET THE MAYOR February 19, 2016

Look at a tree and what do you see: something to be cut down and manufactured into tooth picks, match sticks, 2x4s, particle board, engineered beams, bridge decks, high-rise buildings, fire wood? Of course. All of that and much more is in a tree. It just takes imagination, determination, the equipment to do it, and the marketing network to keep you in business. Nothin' to it.

Approach Chetwynd from Wabi Hill in the dark of the night with the bright lights of the city spread out in the valley. What do you see? When your focus is tuned you will see the lights of the boulevard guiding #97 through town – whether we sleep or wake. As you enter you will notice the wide-spreading guard trees to the right and left marking your way. Drive with care.

For longer than most of us remember we've taken our boulevard trees for granted, simply assuming that year by year the cycle of seasons would display itself along our boulevard. Fresh green in May to be followed by the mature hues of summer transforming to the reds and golds of autumn and finally the resting bare twigs of winter. Like the ancient promise of the cycle of the seasons and the harvests, it has never failed.

But years take their toll – on trees, cars, and their drivers.

We might not have noticed (probably didn't notice), but here one, there another, and over there a few more our boulevard trees have succumbed to time, seasons, insects, and decay. We've lost quite a number without our notice.

Now the time has come as time always comes, and we have to face the facts of life and death, even of trees. Our plan is to remove all trees between Nicholson Road and the junction of 97 and 29. Further, the plan is to replace them with fast-growing ash having an expected lifespan of 80 years. Of course I'm saddened. I won't last long enough to see them reach full height or full breadth. But I do remember when the first trees were planted decades ago and if you are between ten and twenty in age, you'll be able to smile, when you're fifty, at your beautiful trees, and remember when they went into the ground.

Now, as we propose to replace some trees, you might remember the objections to planting them: you'll be hiding my business; people will drive right on by; my business will suffer because of your silly ideas of beauty. Well, the business is still prospering and it's the trees that finally have to give place to the next generation.

Look at a tree and what do you see? For years we've taken our trees for granted while we enjoyed their beauty and their shade. Chetwynd's boulevard trees are talked up in the region. Good stewardship now means that we have to plan and act to leave a legacy for the next human generation to enjoy. Our pain will be its pleasure.

Merlin Nichols, Mayor

GLENN CORMYLO

Glenn Cormylo, a long time resident of Dawson Creek, B.C. passed away on Sunday, January 31, 2016 in Beaverlodge, Alberta at the age of 69 years.

Glenn was working in a mine in Bralorne, B.C. 52 years ago when he saw Shirley for the first time. He was having lunch in the cafe when she and her sister walked in. They never exchanged words that day, but as destiny would have it, they ran into each other again days later in a beer parlour. Glenn challenged her to a game of pool, and she beat him. He then challenged her to a game of shuffleboard, and she beat him at that too. Glenn gave up and for the rest of the night they sat and talked. He stopped by her house a few days later and again they sat and talked again for several more hours.

Three daughters and one son later, they were a family. Years later came four granddaughters, one grandson, six great grandchildren, and one great-great grandchild. Glenn considered himself blessed to have witnessed his granddaughters all marry fine men and he was overjoyed to have held and known his grandchildren.

It was through his actions and words every day of his life, that all that was important to him was caring for Shirley, his children, and grandchildren. He did so by starting and running a successful refrigeration company with Shirley for 24 years. He was the service man and Shirley ran the office. He also flipped several properties and vehicles. Glenn was always looking for a new project.

It wasn't always work, work, work. They loved the outdoors. Hunting, fishing, camping, four-wheeling, and taking long drives. They made several family trips across Canada. Quite often they would load up the truck and camper and drive to one of their favorite spots, Liard Hot Springs. They even made it up to Alaska. They also loved baking and cooking. Glenn taught Shirley how to bake bread, and she taught him how to dry moose meat. Glenn would often wake them up on weekends for breakfast singing and clanging pots and pans and have a big breakfast of crepes, pancakes, waffles, or something fabulous to eat. Glenn loved to joke, tease, and have fun. He loved having visitors, sitting and talking and laughing for hours. Glenn was kind and generous, always willing to help others. He was busy, but he always made time to be there for his family for advice, for support, and to guide them. He was also very talented and smart, strong and courageous. Glenn was a caring and loving husband and he was the most amazing father.

A Memorial Service was held on Tuesday, February 9, 2016 at 1:00 pm from Reynars Funeral Chapel. Father Louis Kwena officiated. Interment will be at a later date.

Very Respectfully Reynars Funeral Home & Crematorium www.reynars.com
