KELSEY'S CHRONICLES

Making The Most of The Rest of Your Summer

Summer is hard as an adult - finding the balance between enjoying the little bit of warm weather we get while also doing the daily grind at work. Being that our summer here in the Peace is about 14.5 days long you have to get out and enjoy every bit of it that you can.

Hiking- there are a few great hiking trails in town and just on the outskirts of town. visit Chetwynd's visitor centre for a map of some of the trails around town.

Fishing- Both river and lake fishing, take your pic of the various fishing holes. As k some locals for their favourite spots (even if they don't tell you their favourite they will give you some ideas)

Swimming- The pool is having its yearly clean out but there are many lakes to take advantage of: Moberly lake, Gwillam lake, Heart lake, Dinosaur lake. All of these are the closest to Chetwynd and can be googled for location.

Community Events- There is usually something happening in town like movies in the park or otherwise. Keep an eye on our paper for upcoming events in town... like the Harvest Festival early September, which is still looking for volunteers and sponsors. Contact The Chamber of Commerce for more info.

Picnic- Picnics are just always a fun idea! They can be so versatile- home made samidges in the park or a bucket of chicken and a six pack. But obviously never drink in a public park.

Backroad cruising- people don't do enough back road cruising and it shows! Get out and kick up some dust exploring the 1000's of trails and roads in the bush. But of course always obey posted trespassing and private property signage.

If you're like me who feels like I blinked and the first half of the year disappeared, I'll definitely be doing my best to make the most of the last 5 days of summer, LOL!

A Few Tips to Beat the Flu Before it Begins

School's almost back in session and that means flu season is right around the corner. Even if you've got the perfect flu-free streak going, it's important to take steps to prevent the flu so that you don't risk spreading it to someone who can't afford to get sick.

Children, seniors, children, people who are pregnant or have chronic medical conditions are especially vulnerable to the flu. Let's beat the odds this season with a few handy tips to boost immunity:

Eat nutrient-rich foods. Eating well is one of the best ways to ensure that your body has the nutrients it needs for a strong immune system. Foods like citrus fruits and sweet peppers, beans and legumes, nuts and seeds, and probiotics such as yogurt are rich in essential vitamins C, E, and zinc, which are helpful allies in fighting off sickness. Consuming nutrient rich foods over supplements provides the added benefit of also containing things like fibre, calcium and/or healthy fats, but before consuming any of these nutrient rich foods, don't forget to wash your hands.

Get a good night's sleep. When your body is well rested, it's more equipped to combat foreign germs that attack your immune system. Make sure to get lots of rest before you start feeling ill to keep your immune system ready for whatever comes your way.

Stay active. Working out has more benefits than just helping you stay in shape. Staying active can also help boost your immune system, leading to a less likely chance that the flu will knock you down. People who exercise regularly may get fewer colds and recover faster.

Minimize stress. Opposite to exercise, stress depletes the immune system. For this reason, it's important to try to minimize your stress levels, especially at high-risk times. Both stress and the flu take a toll on the body, and experiencing one makes it more likely that you will experience the other. Try practicing yoga or meditation to encourage relaxation.

HOW TO MAKE THE MOST OF SUMMER TRAVEL

One of the best parts of our short Canadian summers is the opportunity to enjoy them a little bit extra on long weekends. If you need ideas, check out these creative things to do whether you decide to stay in town or go away.

Do a dinner crawl. Pub crawls are fun for couples, friends and also families with older kids. For an exciting twist that stretches your dollars and lets you taste food from several spots before you get too full, try a dinner crawl. Eat apps at one restaurant, mains at another and dessert at another.

Go on a mini getaway. You don't need to go very far to enjoy a vacation – exploring a Canadian city over a summer weekend is great way to treat yourself to a holiday. Breakfast Tacos great for the kids

Ingredients

- 2 eggs
- ½ cup milk
- ½ cup water
- ¼ tsp salt
- 2 TBL oil (coconut oil is my fave, but canola or flax oil would work too)
- 1 cup whole wheat flour

Instructions
Pour 1/3 cup of batter onto skillet

Cook until both sides are browned and middle is cooked through
Fill with plain, Greek, or vanilla yogurt – a great source of calcium
Add berries and roll.
Enjoy!

Quick Tips:

Your children can choose their toppings – make it fun!
You can add nuts or seeds for added crunch and protein
Dairy free – use flax, almond or rice milk instead and dairy free yogurt
Gluten free – substitute wheat flour for gluten free flours (quinoa or coconut flour are great)
