LOCAL DAWSON CREEK MOM MAKES TOP TEN ON MASTER CHEF CANADA

Jennifer Jenkins of Dawson Creek, BC has earned her spot into the top 10 this past Tuesday April 17th, on Master Chef Canada.

The stay at home mom and wife, who currently resides in Dawson Creek, applied for the show last fall and was accepted. On the first challenge, with ingredients the contestants brought from home, amateur chef Jennifer brought eggs to create her family famous eggs benedict. But it wasn't just any eggs benedict, this had a home made hollandaise sauce and was nestled in a hash brown nest with salsa topping it. That first dish helped earn her way into the top twelve. From the initial 21 contestants, nine were sent home after the first challenge. This past Tuesday was the first team challenge where Jennifer was on team red. Team red made chicken breasts stuffed with "duxelle" sided with swiss chard and smashed sweet potatoes. The dish was well received by the Habitats for Humanity team that enjoyed and voted on both team's dishes and by a landslide voted team red as the challenge winners.

Watch Jennifer next Tuesday April 24th on CTV as she takes on a new challenge in the Master Chef Canada kitchen in the hopes of winning $100,000 and the title of Master Chef Canada.

MP ZIMMER CHALLENGES FACEBOOK TO DO MORE TO PROTECT CANADIANS' PRIVACY

"I as chair and we as a committee don't take lightly the fact that Mr. Zuckerberg declined to appear," said Bob Zimmer, Member of Parliament for Prince George-Peace River-Northern Rockies and Chair of the Standing Committee on Access to Information, Privacy and Ethics, reprimanding Facebook executives for CEO Mark Zuckerberg's decision not to testify before the committee.

Kevin Chan, Head of Public Policy for Facebook Canada, and Robert Sherman, Deputy Chief Privacy Officer for Facebook Inc., testified as part of the committee's study on a breach of personal information involving Cambridge Analytica and Facebook.

Mr. Zimmer challenged Facebook to do more to protect Canadians' privacy after hearing that of the 23 million Canadians who use Facebook, over 600,000 had their data compromised.

"As chair of the committee, I think we've all appreciated the good parts of Facebook in connecting with loved ones and connecting with voters on a daily basis. I check Facebook regularly for my news," said Mr. Zimmer. "Yet we task you with a deep responsibility of keeping Canadians' data safe. I think this is one thing that is unique about this committee is that all parties are committed to do what we need to do to ensure that you keep Canadians data safe."

RAISES COMING FOR LIQUOR SERVERS AND OTHER ALTERNATE MINIMUM WAGE EARNERS

Workers who earn an alternate minimum wage — including liquor servers, piece-rate farm workers, resident caretakers and live-in camp leaders — will soon see a pay raise, Minister of Labour Harry Bains announced today.

“No one working for minimum wage, full-time, year-round should be living in poverty,” said Bains. “Workers deserve a minimum level of protection so that, regardless of a person’s job description, they don’t earn a wage that is distinctly less than the general minimum wage.”

Based on recommendations from the Fair Wages Commission, the Government of British Columbia is eliminating the liquor server wage by 2021, and gradually increasing the wages for specific groups of workers who do not earn the general hourly rate. Liquor servers, resident caretakers and live-in camp leaders will all see wage increases as of June 1, 2018, while farm workers paid by piece rate will see an increase, as of Jan. 1, 2019.

Agriculture Minister Lana Popham said government is extending the transition period for changes to farm worker piece rates to January 2019, from June 2018, in order to better balance the needs of workers and the agriculture industry.

“This is a critical industry for B.C. and we want to make sure any changes made help give it the strong, sustainable future it deserves,” said Popham. “We believe everyone who contributes to this industry should have their say as we move toward making wages fair and life more affordable for farm workers.”

Wages for the five worker groups currently subject to alternate minimum wage rates will change as follows:

Liquor servers – incremental increases on June 1 each year, beginning June 2018, until the general minimum wage is reached, of at least $15.20 per hour, in 2021.

Piece-rate farm workers – 11.5% increase to all piece rates on Jan. 1, 2019, with further study to take place.

Resident caretakers – 11.5% increase June 2018, followed by increases of 9.5%, 5.4% and 4.1% in 2019, 2020 and 2021, respectively (wages vary depending on building size).

Live-in camp leaders – same per cent increases as resident caretakers, until they reach $121.65/per day, in 2021.

Live-in home-support workers – abolishment of the alternate minimum wage for this group, as it covers very few or no workers. The general minimum wage will apply to any workers remaining in this category.

The Fair Wages Commission second report with recommendations can be found here: https://news.gov.bc.ca/files/FWC_Second_Report_March_2018_FINAL.pdf

IT'S SPRING, SO DIG OUT YOUR CULVERTS

Spring may finally be in the air, and you're responsible for ensuring snowmelt can get into access culverts.

The Peace River Regional District and Caribou Road Services are reminding you that the public is responsible for maintaining culverts on the access to their property, even if the culvert was originally installed by the Ministry of Transportation and Infrastructure.

Once melting starts, they say you should dig out the ends of your culverts to assist in run-off and reduce flooding risk. They also say that road crews are responsible for maintaining culvert crossings which run across Ministry of Transportation roads, but not private access culverts.

You may see more information about your driveway responsibilities, including drainage, from the Ministry of Transportation and Infrastructure here: http://www.th.gov.bc.ca/Development_approvals/driveways.htm Courtesy of Peace FM

I have no voice, yet I speak to you.
I tell of all things in the world that people do. I have leaves, but I am not a tree. I have pages, but I am not a bride. I have a spine, but I am not a man. I have hinges, but I am not a door. I have told you all. I cannot tell you more. What am I? A book
