Teen Burger

$3.50
 ONLY
 Price plus tax.
 For a LIMITED Time

This is not a drill. The Teen Burger is really just $3.50. What's changed? Nothing except the price. It's still made with the best ingredients—100% pure beef raised without the use of hormones or antibiotics, bacon that's naturally smoked with pecan wood, melted processed cheese, crisp lettuce and vine-ripened tomatoes. It's just really good food at a really good price, for a limited time.

CHEWYND COUNCIL MEETING

The District of Chetwynd held their regular council meeting on October 2nd at the Municipal Hall. All councillors were in attendance but Mayor Merlin Nichols was absent, and Councillor Deck acted as Mayor for the meeting.

The meeting began with a presentation from Chris Montgomery of Canadian Association of Petroleum Producers. Mr. Montgomery's presentation was to inform Council of their current condition of markets, the challenges they face, concerns about NAFTA, and reducing their carbon footprint.

CAPP represents large and small producer companies and has over 70 members that produce 80% of Canada's natural gas and crude oil. Chris mentioned the importance of staying competitive in these markets to attract investment and open ourselves up to new foreign and domestic markets. He mentioned concerns about carbon pricing and the affects on the market. He also noted that not all areas in BC are likely to come back equally and producers will be focussing on highest value resource. This will include areas around Fort Nelson and Dawson Creek.

Don Pettit of Peace Energy Cooperative was the next to present. His presentation was to entice the District of Chetwynd to consider the benefits of solar power. Peace Energy Cooperative is based out of Dawson Creek and was a key player in BC's first wind project, the Bear Mountain Wind Park. They are a for-profit cooperative designed to provide financial return to their member investors and have more than 489 members. He went over the benefits of going solar with the biggest reason being that it fights climate change by reducing your carbon footprint. Additionally, the cost of solar has dropped 80% over the last 5 years and grid-tie has been streamlined by BC Hydro.

Mr. Pettit went over the project they're in the midst of in Hudson Hope, who has just received a grant of over 1 million to help complete their solar project.

CHEWYND COUNCIL MEETING

This solar project will help Hudson's Hope see a huge decrease in their hydro bill. In some cases, if you create more power than you use with your solar panels, BC Hydro will pay you for the extra power your solar has created. Solar power is helping many areas in the North, including Dawson Creek, Fort St. John, Mile 108, Charlie Lake, and Hudson's Hope. With our extended daylight in the summer months, our region is considered a plentiful solar resource, the best in the province.

Mr. Pettit asked council to consider a "community scan," which would provide them with more information on which buildings would benefit from solar and also an estimate on the cost of installation. He stressed that there are several grants available for municipalities looking to go solar and several more grants coming available on the horizon.

Council moved on to the first, second and third readings on the bylaw for tax exempt buildings in town. Council then made a motion to designate Mayor and one council member to attend the Climate Leadership Institute in Richmond in early November.

Councillor Pfanner gave a brief update on the Northern Health Steering Committee's progress and Councillor Galbraith announced that the District of Chetwynd would donate $100 to the Junior Dragon's Den competition in 2018.

An informal public input session was opened for discussion regarding a second application from Dave and Ron Milner and Lorne Waldie for 150 more beds to be added to their original application of 150 that was approved on September 5th's council meeting.

The first to get up and speak in opposition was Mr. Bailey of Lakeview Inns and Suites. He was there to ask council to consider delaying their decision to see how the first set of camps affect the hotel vacancies in town.

Terry Halliday stood up and spoke of his rental properties and how he was full at the moment but may see some vacancies when the camps open. He was questioned if any of his tenants work for the companies that will be using the camps where he answered that he was uncertain but maybe 8 of them.

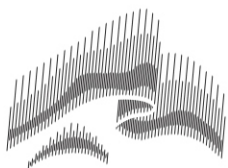

Dave Milner got up and spoke on behalf of his camp project stressing that there is nowhere for hundreds of workers to get a hot meal at early hours in the morning or bagged lunches, additionally that there will be a huge influx in workers over the next few months that will not have anywhere to stay.

Tasha Sheppard of the Pomeroy Inn and Suites and a representative from Fort. St. John spoke in opposition but also spoke of the brick and mortar incident that put Fort St. John in hot water after they built over 1100 rooms of hotels throughout the city for Site-C that never saw any Site C workers. She went on to say that here in Chetwynd they have good vacancy rates at the moment that fluctuate from morning to night but would likely see a decrease if another 150 bed camp is built on top of the over 400 beds that are already in construction.

Carmen Westgate of the Riverhouse Restaurant and Pine Cone Inn spoke in favour of the Flite Oilfield camp adding an extra 150 beds. She mentioned that her staff are over worked and her hotel couldn't accommodate one more person even if they wanted to. She is fully booked and has a waiting list at this time. She mentioned that her businesses are not the only ones over worked and understaffed, as many other establishments made their situation clear at a different meeting held the week prior.

Council moved on to the decision where they came to the conclusion, by vote, that they would hold off on an approval at this time.

JOSEPH LEO LAURENT FONTAINE

Leo passed from this life onto his next journey on October 1, 2017 in Prince George, BC at the age of 62, surrounded by his wife and two daughters.

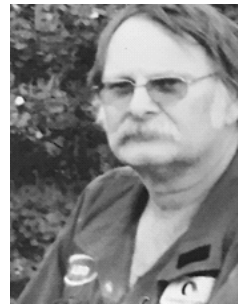

He will be remembered with great fondness, love and admiration by his wife, Nelisa; his two daughters Kim (Tony), Michelle (Hugh) (with previous wife Sue); grandsons Christopher, Jacob and Mason; granddaughters Abigail, Kasey and Isabella; brothers Ron - predeceased (Wendy), Marcel (Karen), Raymond (Cindy Lou), Robert, and sister Eva (Vic) and many numerous extended family and friends that he has known over the years.

Leo was born in Cranbrook, BC on May 31, 1955 to Laurent and Jeanne Fontaine (both predeceased). He was raised in Lisieux, SK. Leo married Sue in 1975 and had two daughters. Over the years, Leo liked to try new things. He worked on the oil rigs in Brooks, Alberta and overseas in Kuwait City. He was co-owner of Fontaine Concrete and Construction in Saskatchewan and then in Chetwynd, BC where his family moved in 1990. He continued with this work for many years and in 2005 began a new career with CNRL as a plant operator. Leo and his wife Nelisa married on Jan 18, 2014. They resided on acreage outside of Chetwynd, BC.

Over the course of his life, Leo was an avid learner. He always wanted to know more. He valued hard work and doing the "right thing." He loved Jesus and showed that faith in the way he treated people in all walks of life. He had a strong sense of right and wrong. If you were ever looking for Leo or needed a hand, you could always find him in the coffee shop.

He will be dearly missed by everyone, but he is at peace, reunited with his mom, dad, brother and other friends and family that have passed before him.

In lieu of any donations, please take our dad's advice and "live a life to be proud of." Funeral to be held at Our Lady of Peace Catholic Church in Chetwynd, BC on Saturday, October 7, 2017 at 11:30am. Memorial Service to be held at Rockglen Catholic Church in Rockglen, SK, on Tuesday October 10 at 10:30am. Interment to follow at Lisieux Cemetery in Lisieux, SK.

While driving on the highway, my daughter noticed a child in the window of a car in the next lane, holding up a handwritten sign that read "Help." A few minutes later, the car passed her and she again glanced at it. The little boy held up the same sign and this time followed it with another, which read "My mother is singing!"

2017 BC ABORIGINAL BUSINESS AWARDEES ANNOUNCED

Awardees of the ninth annual BC Aboriginal Business Awards were announced today by the BC Achievement Foundation, the program's presenting organization. The Awardees will be celebrated at a gala dinner ceremony on October 26, 2017 at the Fairmont Hotel Vancouver where over 600 people will gather to honour excellence in Indigenous business in British Columbia.

"The BC Aboriginal Business Awards program shines a spotlight on the important and expanding role of Indigenous business in the province," said Scott McIntyre, Foundation Chair. "The 2017 Awardees exemplify the best of vision, enterprise, resourcefulness and commitment while reflecting the diversity of Indigenous businesses contributing to the provincial economy."

The BC Aboriginal Business Awards were launched in 2008 to honour and celebrate business excellence.

A total of 19 Indigenous businesses, entrepreneurs, partnership entities and community-owned enterprises were recognized at this year's gala dinner.

Members of the 2017 jury panel include Brenda Baptiste, Glen Ohs and Laara Yaghujaanas.

In addition, Chief Gibby Jacob of the Squamish Nation has been selected as the recipient of the 2017 BC Aboriginal Business Award for Individual Achievement in recognition of his efforts towards economic development and business in the Province. The award is selected by the British Columbia Achievement Foundation's Board of Directors.

The BC Aboriginal Business Awards are presented by the BC Achievement Foundation in partnership with the Ministry of Indigenous Relations and Reconciliation, and generously supported by New Relationship Trust, TD, Teck, BC Hydro, CN, Encana, Enbridge, MNPllp and Vancity.

KELSEY'S CHRONICLE

Being that it's ALREADY Thanksgiving weekend (this year has gone by way too fast), I thought I would jot down a list of the top 10 things that I'm personally thankful for this year, and a lot of these I'm sure you're thankful for too!

When I was a kid, before indulging in turkey dinner, my family and I would go around the table and mention things that we are thankful for, and I was always at a loss for words. My answer would usually just be that I'm thankful for family.

1. Family is always my top choice, but what about family? I'm thankful for my hubby being so supportive and caring, for my wonderful kidlets who always make my day, my dog Yodi that is always so excited to see me that he smiles... very wierdly, and my cat Freddie Eddie, who could not care less if I'm there or not, but secretly I know he cares.
 2. Capturing the perfect picture is such a good feeling, especially if you think you missed the moment.
 3. Clean air and the wilderness - Living in Canada, we get the opportunity to breathe basically pollution free air and with Canada being the second largest country and a population of 3.7 people per square km it makes it incredibly easy to be alone, if that's your thing.
 4. Finding money in an old coat pocket, who wouldn't be thankful for that? Even just a couple bucks is awesome.
 5. A hot bath after a cold day - Spending all day outside up here in the fall and winter will chill you to the bone. Hopping into a hot bath after a long day is definitely something I'm thankful for!
 6. Random acts of kindness - Whether it's someone letting you in front of them in a line, a door held open or someone in front of you paying for your morning coffee, these are all great things to be thankful for, and returning the favour passes on the kindness.
 7. Being able to Google almost anything - Whether it's a recipe, an address, phone number or just asking a random question that the hubby and I are debating over! Google ranks up there in my top ten for sure!
 8. Northern lights - The beautiful live show we get from our sky some nights beats out any prime time TV series, in my opinion.
 9. Thunderstorms - Why? I'm not sure, I guess just the feeling it gives you while waiting for it to pass over, especially with little kids.
 10. Last but not least! Gun control and the feeling of safety in Canada - With the recent tragedies in Vegas, I think we can all be thankful for our gun control laws and an all around general feeling of safety in our country. While still keeping in mind the recent situation in Edmonton, Canada is still one of the safest countries to live in.
- I hope everyone enjoys their Thanksgiving this year with family or without and I hope everyone pushes themselves to think of something unique that they are thankful for!

My mother is always trying to understand what motivates people, especially those in her family. One day she and my sister were talking about one relative's bad luck.

"Why do you suppose she changed jobs?" Mother asked my sister.

"Maybe she has a subconscious desire not to succeed."

"Or maybe it just happened," said my sister, exasperated. "Do you know you analyse everything to death?"

Mother was silent for a moment. "That's true," she said.

"Why do you think I do that?"

SHOP LOCAL CONTEST WINNER

This summer's Shop Local initiative ended this past Monday, October 2nd at Dedication Park, where they announced the winner. The contest is in celebration of Chetwynd's 55 years and was put on by Chetwynd's Chamber of Commerce in partnership with the District of Chetwynd, Chetwynd's Visitor Centre and Love Chetwynd.

The winner of the $550 worth of "Chetwynd Bucks" was Joan Taylor.

There were 289 entries in the contest, which asked locals to shop at their favourite local stores. With more than 60 businesses participating, entrants would receive a sticker that they attached to their entries. Once their card was full, they would hand it in to the District Office, the Chamber Office or the Visitor's Centre to be eligible for the draw. Congratulations to Joan Taylor for winning, and to everyone else, keep shopping local!

all the sheep in the pen, he reports back to the farmer:

"All 40 accounted for."

"But I only have 36 sheep," says the farmer.

"I know," says the sheepdog.

"But I rounded them up."
