KELSEY'S CHRONICLE

Sometimes as consumers we hope that our food packaging is being honest, but more often than not, it's misleading. A lot of the time we just assume that something that says fat free is healthier for us, or that it's doing our body a favour by being gluten free, but in reality these choices aren't always as great as they sound. Fat free food and gluten free foods can contain up to 40% more calories and 10% more sugar. This got me thinking, so I have compiled a list of 10 popular food items you assume are healthy but actually are not.

1. Tortillas - Most people assume flour tortillas are healthier than bread. When compared, tortillas actually contain more calories, sodium, and the same amount of sugar as 2 slices of whole wheat bread.

2. Dried Fruit - Simple dehydrated fruit is almost as healthy as regular fruit, but the majority of packaged dried fruit you buy from stores contains a ton of added sugar as well as a bunch of preservatives to extend the shelf life.

3. Fruit Yogurt - Yogurt is a great source of calcium, but when you choose a fruit flavour over plain, you are adding extra sugar and preservatives that you won't find in plain yogurt.

4. Granola - Granola is healthy when you stick to the suggested serving amount. I don't know about you, but 1/4 cup of granola just isn't enough to satisfy sometimes. When you double the serving you double the calories, fat and sugar.

5. Instant Oatmeal - If you buy the authentic cooking oatmeal in bulk, this doesn't pertain to you, but if you're a fan of peaches and cream, or maple and brown sugar, you aren't doing your body any favours. The amount of sodium alone in one package is absurd, and then you look at the sugar, yikes!

6. Protein Bars - These are basically as healthy as shovelling a Mr. Big in your face, with a miniscule amount of protein so that they aren't blatantly lying to you.

7. Frozen Yogurt - We all hope that eating frozen yogurt over ice cream is making a smart decision, but they are basically the same. There is almost no difference in the amount of sugar in both.

8. Microwave Popcorn- Microwave popcorn seems like it would be simply kernels and butter, in reality it contains high amounts of preservatives and additives.

9. Smoothies - If you make your own at home this doesn't apply to you, but if you're lining up out the door for a smoothie bought from a franchise (not naming any names), chances are there is enough sugar for 3 cups of coffee in your cup of "fruit" smoothie.

10. Veggie Chips - Potato is a veggie, too... it doesn't matter what kind you're having, it has been fried. Baked veggie chips do exist, you just have to read the label to eliminate the phonies.

I'm not preaching to anyone to not eat your favourite foods, because Lord knows that won't stop me from enjoying frozen yogurt or tortillas! This is just more of a reminder that even if the label reads "all natural" or fat free, chances are it's just as unhealthy as the substitute. It seems the only way to know what you're truly eating is to make everything yourself!

MEET THE MAYOR

October 20, 2017

Vegas. Chance. Time out. Get away. Lights, glitter, music; old car events, over-sized concerts; friends. Come home with a little more cash than you took. Simple pleasures. Stay alive.

How far to Vegas? Not far. A few hours will speed you from the cold cares of life, the snow, the jobs, and the dull routines, to the city of glamour and money – and of forgetting the cares of the day for a day or two or three.

My first thoughts when I heard were fears for my people. I know many of you take in a Vegas vacation just for a change of scenery if not for the hope of coming home rich. Any of those hopes will be held in confidence until you come home rich – or at least able to boast of your self-control – how you dropped no more than you planned to drop.

But all of you plan to come home sweet home, be it ever so humble (there's no place quite like home), mortgaged, and in need of small repairs. Las Vegas can't hold you forever or for long.

Or can it?

Seems the folks caught in the crosshairs of madness personified all planned to come home if not richer at least home. Of course they did. Vegas would be a mere blip, soon forgotten, in their otherwise-ordinary, otherwise-humdrum existences.

How things can change in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye!

It was a long couple of days until it was finally confirmed that no one from this part of Creation, no one of my people was taking a dreamless detour on the way home from the city of dreams. Once again it happened to somebody else, somebody far away. Still tragic. Still senseless. Still obscene. Still fraught with wondering what's next. But the pain is less real. Somebody else is feeling it.

How far to Vegas? Not really far in any sense. Get there in a few hours. Come here in a few hours.

Vegas come here? Over my bruised and broken carcass. No never!

So I wonder, what can I do, what can we do as a community of regular people to see that Vegas never comes here. How can we make our community a safer, healthier home town, a town in which we not only feel safe but are safe in every sense of the word?

Maybe it starts with caring – caring who our neighbours are; caring why they do what they do.

Maybe it then moves to learning about our neighbours – and from that vantage to actually doing something human. Take over a fresh loaf of bread, a plate of your own best cookies, an invitation to a bbq in your back yard – to your enemy next door. Destroy your enemy! Yes, by all means caring and generous! And create from the ashes a friend, indeed.

I'm just musing. You have no enemies, do you?

How far to Vegas? It can be as far or as close as the intent of your heart. So let's be the kind of persons like the kind of persons we would like everyone to be. Let's continue to build the kind of community like the kind of community to which we want to come home.

And let's leave Vegas where it is.

COUNCIL MEETING

Councillor Weisgerber announced and showed off a plaque that the District of Chetwynd received as well as a clock that they received from Conuma Coal for their ongoing support.

Councillor Bassendowski also showed council and staff the plaque and scissors they had received from Mickle Wind, which is BC's biggest windmill operation, located out of Fort St. John.

Mayor and Council received a letter inviting Chetwynd Council to take part in The Alaska Highway Community Society. Councillor Weisgerber mentioned that she used to sit on the board, but that Chetwynd isn't directly affected by the content discussed at the meetings. They decided to try once more and send a few representatives from council to the next meeting.

An email was received inviting Mayor and Council for a discussion on community & stakeholder engagement in NEBC. Council decided to send as many members that are available for the meeting.

The last item was a $1000 donation that the District of Chetwynd will give to Northern Health as a prize for a much needed survey pertaining to health care in Chetwynd. Keep your eye out for more information on the contest and for your chance to fill out a survey and maybe win a prize. It's a win, win!

HAPPY HALLOWEEN

25 BONE-CHILLING MOVIES FOR A FRIGHTFUL TIME

It's that time of year when zombies, vampires, evil spirits, murderous villains and monsters of every shape and size take the spotlight. Do you like movies that keep you on the edge of your seat and send chills to run down your spine? Here are a few film suggestions to help you get in a sinister mood this Halloween season. Grab the popcorn, dim the lights and get ready to shiver with fright!

1. Halloween
2. The Blair Witch Project
3. The Shining
4. The Ring
5. The Exorcist
6. A Nightmare on Elm Street
7. Rec
8. 28 Days Later
9. Saw
10. The Texas Chainsaw Massacre
11. Paranormal Activity
12. The Conjuring
13. The Babadook
14. The Witch
15. It Follows
16. Psycho
17. The Descent
18. Goosebumps
19. Friday the 13th
20. The Thing
21. Hostel
22. Night of the Living Dead
23. Alien
24. Carrie
25. Bride of Frankenstein

CELEBRATING HALLOWEEN WITH FAMILY?

Depending on your children's ages, Casper, The Nightmare Before Christmas, Frankenweenie, Hotel Transylvania, ParaNorman, Ghostbusters, The Addams Family, Abracadabra, The Haunted Mansion, and Scooby-Doo and the Reluctant Werewolf are all timely picks! The magical world of Harry Potter is also very fitting for this supernatural time of year.

HALLOWEEN COSTUME IDEAS FOR ALL AGES

Are you the type to eagerly scour every Halloween store in town in search of the perfect costume that will make you the talk of the party? Or perhaps you're more the type to dig something up last minute, feeling compelled to dress up? And what about your children? Do they always know exactly what they want to be, or, on the contrary, can they never seem to make up their minds? No matter your answers to these questions, here are several ideas to help inspire your next Halloween get-up!

Are you fond of movies, television series or video games? Well, pop culture offers endless inspiration! Do you or your children go crazy for characters like Belle, Moana, Flash McQueen, Trolls, Minions or one of the furry members of the Paw Patrol? How about Toad, Daenerys Targaryen, Princess Leia or Zelda, or the infamous Captain Jack Sparrow? Have you ever dreamed of embodying a superhero or villain like Wonder Woman, Batman, Harley Quinn, Joker or Deadpool? Lastly, if you're big on nostalgia, why not venture into the magical universe of Harry Potter?

Not much of a moviegoer or gamer? Then perhaps you're a fan of current events! Hop into the shoes of Donald Trump, Hilary Clinton or Justin Trudeau for the day — and don't forget to study your character to get their mannerisms just right. More of a social media addict? Channel your favourite emoji, or turn yourself into a hashtag. And if you're one to think outside the box, why not create your own disguise? A quick online search will yield many unique DIY ideas for every personality type: bottle of wine, box of crayons, hot dog, tube of toothpaste, etc. The only limit is your imagination!

PROCLAMATION

Small Business Week October 16 - 20, 2017

WHEREAS

In conjunction with national Small Business Week, October 16 - 20, 2017, Community Futures Development corporations throughout the province will be celebrating local small business and entrepreneurship development in British Columbia; and

WHEREAS

Small Business Week is an opportunity to pay tribute to the entrepreneurs who drove the Canadian economy and use their energy to expand Canada's business sector. It is also an opportunity for Community Futures Development Corporations to celebrate their accomplishments and raise their profile; and

WHEREAS

Small Business Week serves as an opportunity to inform the public on how Community Futures Development Corporations, with support from Western Economic Diversification Canada, are playing a key role in developing small business throughout British Columbia.

THEREFORE

I, Merlin Nichols, Mayor of the District of Chetwynd in the province of British Columbia recognize and proclaim the week of October 16 - 20, 2017 as 'Small Business Week'.

CHECK OUT JULIA'S NEWEST LISTING!

EXECUTIVE HOME. DESIGNED WITH SOPHISTICATION, FINISHED WITH OPPULANCE IN MIND. It is rare to find a home that combines quality and style on a level that speaks to us all. This home is situated on a large manicured & fenced lot in the beautifully designed, Crown subdivision. The property offers a paved drive as well as large shop with oversized door, concrete pad, and heating. There are quality decks on both the front and back of the home. The distinguished design of the house is evident from first glance. You will be greeted with polished porcelain tiles in the entry, custom lighting throughout, fabulous hardwood and a kitchen suitable for the culinary inclined. The cabinetry is immaculate, the Stainless appliances are all high-end, the counter-tops are gorgeous, there is a deep basin sink, and a prep sink located in the island. The backsplash boasts stylish grey subway tile, and there is pantry space galore! The open concept design of this home allows for a nice flow between the formal sitting area, dining table, and kitchen. The upstairs further offers a separate family room, a designer powder room, and a bedroom. The fully finished downstairs is home to the massive master bedroom, this room has a lovely walk-in closet, and an ensuite fashioned with an Italian tile rain shower, a granite double vanity, and quality lighting. No expense has been spared in this 4 bedroom, 3 bathroom luxury home. If quality matters to you, call listing representative today to book your private viewing!"
