Consultant Checking at Christmas!

As most of you who read this will know, we have had difficulties with Logistics and communication with the Solos team for quite some time. Praise God with us that an opportunity came up to interact with Thonny Tetena, a translation consultant who lives on a remote island in Bougainville.

Thonny was in Buka town and was able to get in touch with the Solos team. So they set up a consultant checking session for the book of Joshua and a number of other short Old Testament passages for two weeks in December. Larry will be travelling out there on December 5th, with plans to get back on the 22nd (this is full-on Christmas time in the village). We hope to publish Joshua early next year!

Deep in your hearts you know that every promise of the Lord your God has come true. Not a single one has failed!

Prayer Corner

Praises:

- Communication with the Solos team!
- A new Field Training Course is planned for new people in January
- Productive RD meetings last week
- A good replacement for Larry's role as we plan for furlough next August
- A good Thanksgiving with friends

Requests:

- Solos consultant checking session
- Christy and the boys alone in Ukarumpa while Larry travels
- New language people working hard to get to PNG in the next few years
- Christy working at the Primary Campus library next semester
- Referendum on Independence in Bougainville coming up in June 2019
- Wisdom for our long-term plans in Bougainville and the Solos program

In addition, one of the Solos team members who regularly visits town called on a mobile phone. This now gives us a direct mode of communication, although it will only be occasional. Pray that future contact can be maintained.

The Back Page

After the RD Meeting in November, most of the crew was able to meet at a local restaurant for fellowship.

We had a small swarm of bees in our mulberry tree, and of course the boys and bees mixed! Amaziah got a little close and was stung, but he was OK after a few tears.

Christy's groundcover project around our front walk is now in full bloom.

Deep thoughts all around as Jacob challenges Daddy to an after bath-time game of chess.
