Solos Team Update

The Solos translators are finishing up the second of four Translator Training Courses. The whole team has been able to attend and are doing well in the classes.

We have been getting good reports via email. Do keep these men and women in your prayers as they finish up the course and return to their villages to continue Bible translation.

Calling All Partners

We have visited many churches over the past few months to share about what God is doing in Bible translation in Papua New Guinea. God has blessed us with many new and renewing partners.

Contact us directly, or Ashlee Englund at COGH World Missions, if you would like us to come to your church, school, or other group. We really want to see you, and our schedule is filling up fast!

If you intend to partner with us financially over the next four years, please let us know so we can be ready to go.
