

How to make Beeswax Wraps

One of our teachers suggests the easiest way is using an electric fry pan and pure beeswax. She got beeswax from Carseldine Markets for $10 for 1 big tub, or alternatively you can purchase smaller blocks from Bunnings for $5. When you select the material, ensure you use material made from cotton.

STEPS:

1. Melt beeswax in the electric frypan. Once it is melted, lay the wrap in the hot wax and wait for the bubbles to disappear (about ten seconds).
2. Using tongs, pull the fabric out of the wax and let as much of the wax drip off as possible.
3. Hang the Beeswax wrap to dry on a clothes line.
4. To clean, wipe down with a damp cloth. If needed, wash wraps in cool water by hand.
