I know that as a little girl, I always wanted to be a part of a team and feel encouraged by my teammates and my coaches. Being a part of PGA Jr. League gives girls and boys the opportunity to do what they love and be a part of a team.

Belmont Hills Country Club is again hosting the PGA Junior League this year. This is a FUN, interactive, team-building, and summer long golf event. The league is hosted by the Professional Golf Association and has recently become a nation-wide program that is growing rapidly with tremendous support. The program is modeled after little-league baseball to get kids more engaged with golf. Instead of just hitting golf balls and practicing putting by yourself which can be boring at a young age, PGA Jr League participants will become part of a TEAM! The Team will have practices with their coach and compete with other teams. At BHCC, we will be hosting our own League, so no travel will be required. Participants will receive a numbered jersey, and other golf merchandise. This format gets the junior golfers more engaged and instills the drive to improve.

Practices will be held at BHCC. Practice dates will be established by your coach and an information session will be held at the start of the season. Each team will have their designated coach and each player will receive one-on-one instruction from their coach. Coaches will work around little-league baseball schedules and any other conflicting times. The registration deadline is May 15 and the program runs through July 31. All-star post season will begin in August for the participants that have qualified.

Here's where this gets fun.... Aside from having fun with your team at practices, improving your game, and making new friends; your team will compete with the other teams in a scramble format. These games will take place in the evenings and there will be 6 games. Every person will have the ability to play and win points for their team. This is what makes the program so successful because it drives the junior golfers to improve and have fun with the game!!
