What You Need to Know

Do you currently have or plan to have customers, clients or employees in Europe? If yes, join us and learn how the EU's General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) may impact your business when it comes into force on May 25th, 2018. Failure to comply with the GDPR could result in stiff fines as high as 4% of your company's overall revenue.

In 2016, the U.S. Department of Commerce launched the EU-US Privacy Shield Framework to provide US companies with a mechanism to comply with EU data protection requirements when transferring personal data from the EU to the United States. Over 2,300 companies use this program to transfer data. Privacy Shield can play an integral role in many companies' overall GDPR compliance strategy.

JO-010818 - GED Instructor (Kirkbride)

Under the supervision of the Director of Education and Training, the GED Instructor will lead a small adult education class at the Kirkbride Center (www.kirkbridecenter.com/). The Kirkbride Center is a residential rehabilitation facility for adults dealing with serious addiction problems. Students often have a history of trauma, involvement with the criminal justice system, and dual-diagnoses. Students generally have low levels of formal education and achievement, sometimes only through elementary or middle school. The instructor will manage a classroom of 2-10 students at a time. Class content and pacing will vary according to students' levels. Student enrollment is rolling due to the varying length of stay of individuals at the Kirkbride Center. One of the main challenges of teaching the course is the need to simultaneously cater to students with vastly disparate grade level proficiency. A single class might include someone with a 3rd grade reading level and another with an 11th grade level. The instructor will rely on standard texts and instructional guides. However, instruction requires extreme flexibility and the ability to pivot between subjects and levels with little or no advanced notice based upon class attendance on any day.
