KOURTNEY WASHER JOINS THE MAKO GROUP AS STRATEGIC ACCOUNT EXECUTIVE

Hire Further Positions Company for Growth in Detroit Market

(Detroit, Mich.) The Mako Group, a mid-west based cyber risk management firm, has hired Kourtney Washer as strategic account executive. In this role, Washer will hold a position on the company's strategic planning committee where she will play a key role in business strategy and market development efforts. This includes the strategic direction of client value, product alignment as well as keeping the company and its clients at the forefront of new industry standards. Washer will also contribute to the continued development of the company's growing channel partner programs.

Washer brings over 12 years of sales experience to The Mako Group, specializing in digital media. She has an extensive background in developing deep client relationships with the Fortune 50 and has positioned herself as a proactive and results driven executive, achieving year over year revenue growth. Most recently, she held the position of Senior Platforms Account Executive for Google, Detroit.

"Kourtney is an eager and well-rounded account executive who brings a wealth of experience in developing and nurturing lasting client relationships," said David Lefever, CEO, The Mako Group. "Her track record with Google in creating high-level, business strategy for clients, in addition to her strong connections in the marketplace make her a perfect addition to our team."

“The cyber risk management industry is quickly growing and has become one of the most important topics in company board rooms,” said Washer. “To be part of such an experienced team that works relentlessly to educate and properly protect businesses in all different industries is exciting. I’m thrilled to be part of an effort to make changes that effect companies for the better.”

Washer received her Bachelor’s degree in Management and Marketing from Purdue University and her Master’s degree in Business Administration from Wayne State University, Detroit.
