

EUROPEAN SPORT PLATFORM

16-17 NOVEMBER 2018, BUDAPEST HUNGARY

What is the future of sports clubs? What role will esports play in European sport? The European Non-Governmental Sports Organisation (ENGSO) has the pleasure of inviting you to the European Sport Platform in Budapest, Hungary, on 16–17 November 2018, to discuss and share ideas. The event addresses two current themes: the modern sports club and esports meets sports clubs. The first edition of the European Sport Platform is hosted by the Hungarian Competitive Sport Federation.

The European Sport Platform brings together ENGSO members and different European stakeholders – professionals, volunteers, policymakers and scholars alike – to stay informed on and take part in the current debate on sport.

Under the theme of the modern sports club, we will introduce some of the current megatrends and present, how sports clubs can help solve today's societal issues. How can sports clubs promote health and social inclusion, and how can they fight manipulation in sport? With the theme esports meets sports clubs we want to give an overview of the industry, discuss how the sports movement can relate to esports, and provide best practices from sports clubs.

EUROPEAN SPORT PLATFORM
16-17 NOVEMBER 2018, BUDAPEST HUNGARY

| | |
|---------------------------|--|
| Venue | Radisson Blu Béke Hotel Budapest, Teréz krt. 43, 1067 Hungary |
| Participation fee | |
| Early Bird (until 15.10.) | 145 EUR |
| Latecomers (from 16.10.) | 175 EUR |

REGISTER

Please note that we may close the registration earlier – do not wait until last minute.

The full programme will be published in autumn 2018 – stay tuned! Follow www.engso.eu for news and use the hashtag #ESP2018 to engage in discussion ahead of and during the event.

Further information: ENGSO Policy Director Kaisa Larjomaa, larjomaa@engso.eu, tel. +32 484 33 95 38.

In Cooperation with:

