Snowdrops: How is it already March?! Where is the time going to? February was a fun month! We even got outside a couple of times! The Snowdrops are all growing so quickly, learning how to sit on their own, crawl, pull up to standing, and clapping. We had fun making our Valentine's Day art project as well and hope everyone was surrounded by love this month. We are looking forward to more fun activities in March. We are planning some really fun sensory activities for March as well! Ms. Ashley will celebrate a birthday in March, but she won't give away her age just yet. ;-)
