

Bee Balm Learning Center March Newsletter

Flowering Ferns Newsletter

Love was in the air this past month with Valentine's Day and our very first Sweetheart dance! The Flowering Ferns enjoyed talking about who and what we love and the ways we can show the people we care about them through our actions. We discussed how important it is to be kind and caring toward each other as a community through sharing, being helpful, and giving someone a hug who is feeling sad, among other things. We are working very hard in our class on being kind friends and listening to each other's words. Our class welcomed a new friend named Marcel into our room this month as well and everyone has shown him a lot of compassion and inclusion in his transition. We changed gears after the holiday to learn about transportation and things that go. The Ferns enjoyed building ramps and bridges, then testing them out with different objects around the room. Taking walks and looking for street signs, counting cars, and learning how to be safe when crossing a street was an enjoyable learning experience in the great outdoors. Now that Spring is near, we look forward to enjoying more walks around our wonderful neighborhood and time in the sunshine!

Love,

Miss Erica, Miss Jean, and the Flowering Ferns

