

Workshop on Regret, Emotions and Decision Making - 23rd and 24th of March, 2009

Regret is an intelligent (and/or emotional) dislike for personal past acts and behaviors. There are many specific models of regret in economics, finance, psychology, philosophy, etc. In recent years neuroeconomists have brought to the table an understanding of the neurobiological mechanism of regret. Itself a new interdisciplinary field, neuroeconomics builds on the joint work between researchers from different disciplines. The Workshop on Regret will bring together researchers from all the above-mentioned fields with the dual aim of enabling the participants to discuss each other's work as well as to open avenues for future interdisciplinary collaboration.

The workshop will take place at the Center for the Study of Rationality (Monday, March 23) and at Ben-Gurion University (Tuesday, March 24).

The participants of the workshop will include:

Itzhak Aharon (The Center for the Study of Rationality)

Judith Avrahami (The Center for the Study of Rationality)

Giorgio Coricelli (Université Lyon I)

Ido Erev (Technion)

Tal Eyal (Ben-Gurion University)

Urs Fischbacher (Universität Konstanz)

Sacha Gironde (ENS)

Vittorio Grotto (Università IUAV di Venezia)

Sergiu Hart (The Center for the Study of Rationality)

Yakir Levin (Ben-Gurion University)

Ilana Ritov (The Center for the Study of Rationality)

Ramzi Suleiman (Haifa University)

Massimo Warglien (University Ca' Foscari, Venezia)

Eyal Winter (The Center for the Study of Rationality)

Eldad Yechiam (Technion)

Dan Zakay (Interdisciplinary Center, Herzliya)

Marcel Zeelenberg (Tilburg University)

Romy Achituv - Multimedia Artist

The workshop is sponsored by:

The Center for the Study of Rationality

Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Departments of Economics and Psychology

Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Jacques Loeb Centre for the History and Philosophy of the Life Sciences

Ben-Gurion University

Center for Decision Making and Economic Psychology

Ben-Gurion University

Departments of Economics and Philosophy

Ben-Gurion University