MARCH 2016

For another consecutive year, CONCORD CROSSROADS, LLC (C3R) hosted the Army's Annual Antiterrorism and Force Protection (AT/FP) Conference in February of 2016. This year's AT Conference theme was, "The Evolution of Antiterrorism: Staying Ahead of the Threat". In these times of national alert, our participation in making sure this conference was well organized for success is critical," states Claude Wood, President and CEO of C3R. The AT Conference is an opportunity to learn new information and exchange ideas about the AT/FP mission," said a senior member of the Office of the Under Secretary of the Army. "It's equally important to foster an environment for collaborative teamwork to learn from mutual experiences." The professional development and training activities, as well as, the discussions around changes to policy, were a keen focus of the AT Conference. Col. Wood added, "The mix of both defense and commercial leaders in the safety and security field allowed for a well-rounded discussion on the topics." The AT Conference concluded with an awards presentation for leadership and success in a variety of AT/FP programs across the community to include the 2015 inductees into the AT Honor Roll. C3R looks forward to continuing to support the Army's vital AT Conference.
