

2006 Inaugural Glenwood Hall of Fame

William Clark (Posthumous) - Bill Clark was a graduate of Ball Township High School, a 4-H leader and a farmer in the Chatham area for many years. He was a member of the Ball Chatham School Board from 1956-72, serving as chairman for seven years. In Ball Township, he was a past clerk and supervisor. In the early 1970s, he was a Sangamon County Board member, chairman of the finance committee and a member of the road and bridge committee. He was the chairman of the building committee at the Sugar Creek United Methodist Church, a charter member of the Chatham Kiwanis Club and the George F. Hixon Fellow in 1997.

Charlie Cottle (Posthumous) - Charlie Cottle was Glenwood High School's first head football coach, serving in that capacity from 1972 to 1983. Coach Cottle initiated and established the Glenwood High School football program. He built the foundation on which the GHS football program rests today. During his 12 years at Glenwood, he led the team to nine consecutive winning seasons with a varsity record of 57-32-1 and an overall record of 68-38-1. His football teams were known for their toughness, tenacity, and sportsmanship. As a coach and teacher, he taught the young men and women at GHS the virtues of discipline, effort, teamwork and selflessness. In April 2002 Coach Cottle was inducted into the IHSA Football Coaches Hall of Fame. Part of that honor was for his work establishing football at Glenwood High School.

Ellis Mir Arjmand, MD, PhD - Ellis is a 1980 graduate of Glenwood High School. Ellis was focused on his schoolwork and what classes he needed for the Northwestern medical program. In addition to being a straight A student, he was involved in many activities at Glenwood. He was a member of Glenwood's first soccer team, captain of the Brain Trust team; vice-president of the Student Council; in concert, jazz and marching bands; ran on the cross-country and track teams, setting a record in track; was a member of the Thespians and the National Honor Society. He was an Illinois State Scholar and National Merit Scholar. After Ellis graduated in 1980 he was accepted into the Northwestern Honors Program, a six-year medical school program.

He received his bachelor's, MD and PhD at Northwestern University. He then completed his residency in Otolaryngology - Head and Neck Surgery and a fellowship in Pediatric Otolaryngology at Washington University Medical School in St. Louis. He has been a member of the medical school faculty at Washington University, Southern Illinois University and the University of Pittsburgh. Currently, he is an Associate Professor in the Department of Otolaryngology at the Cincinnati College of Medicine. He is an Attending Otolaryngologist at Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center, where he serves as Director of the Center for Hearing and Deafness Research, and Director of the Cochlear Implant program. He has authored numerous books and other publications, and has been listed in The Best Doctors in America in 1997-98, 2002, and 2004.

Shannon (Staley) Metzger - Shannon is a 1989 graduate of Glenwood High School. Beginning with her athletic achievements, Shannon earned three varsity letters as a freshman in cross-country, basketball and track. Most notable was her varsity letter in basketball, as that team made it to the Sweet Sixteen Basketball Tournament that year. She held a record in the 3200 meter run at the high school for over 17 years, and holds the record for most assists in basketball during a game. She was chosen to be Runner of the Year by the Springfield Running Club and went on to run cross-country at the United States Military Academy at West Point. Her athletic accomplishments, however, may best be remembered in relation to her track performances. In addition, she was chosen team captain for several years in all three sports in which she participated. In 1989, she was chosen as scholar/athlete of the year. In 1994 Shannon became the youngest female in the nation to be hired by the U.S. Marshals Service. While attending the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center in Glynco, GA, Shannon set the national record for the 1.5 mile run which she held until 2000. She graduated from FLETC with honors as one of two graduating candidates to pass the fitness requirements to enter the prestigious "500" club. She was assigned to the Chicago office where she was chosen to be one of 10 individuals to represent the USMS at a leadership conference. This type of recognition continues today.

Donald Kauerauf -Donald Kauerauf was hired to teach in the Ball-Chatham School District in 1965. In 1969, he was promoted to principal of Glenwood High School, and by 1971 he was Assistant Superintendent. He served in this capacity until the retirement of Mr. Bill Hovey in June 1988, at which point, he moved into the superintendent position. He retired as superintendent in 1993. Mr. Kauerauf saw many changes during his years at Ball-Chatham, and was successful in so many of the initiatives set before him. He was instrumental in passing bond referendums for school buildings, and skilled and fair in working with teachers to expedite contract issues. He's credited for motivating faculty and staff by example to give 100 percent, and worked tirelessly to ensure a positive work and learning environment in each school.

Arlen Nelson - Arlen Nelson taught Physical Education at Glenwood Junior High School from 1967 through 1999. Throughout his tenure, he also served, at various times, as assistant cross-country, flag football and boys track coach, department coordinator, and junior high head cross country coach. He is probably best remembered for his remarkable dedication to his students. Most Glenwood graduates from 1968 to 2003 can probably tell you the names of Arlen's dogs. His dogs practically lived at the field house because Arlen practically lived there. He was always working to make things better for the kids. Arlen taught by example that dedication, hard work and gentle manner are to be respected and emulated. One can still find Arlen today at a Glenwood football or basketball game, or cross-country meet continuing to support the kids at Glenwood.

1975 Boys Basketball Team - The 1975 Boys Basketball Team competed in the Class A State Tournament, the only team in Glenwood's history to do so. This was the last year that GHS was a Class A school. The Redskins were defeated in the quarterfinals by Eldorado, which scored 65 points to Chatham Glenwood's 60. Members of Glenwood's varsity team included: Dave Boettner, Bob Brady, Keith Carver, Monty Carbonell, Dan Connelly, Bill Day, Mike Freeman, Jeff Frey, Mike Gaule, Skip Homeier, Ken Kingery, Pat Moomey, Larry Sweat, and Paul Wessing. Bill Scheffler, Paul Kopatz and Charlie Cottle coached. Doug Hamrick, Frank Lewis, and Bill Skaggs were managers.
