

When: June 24-28, 2019 | Cost: $75.00

Held: ILT, Old Sanctuary, 910 4th St. PO Box 833, Brookings, SD 57006

Registration: Call ILT at (605) 692-9337 or email Thresa at thopkins@ilt.edu

Theology and Science

This course is being offered as a House of Studies on campus in Brookings, SD from June 24-28, 2019.

This course reflects critically upon the nature of both the scientific and the theological enterprises, and it seeks ways to connect these supposedly disparate disciplines. After introducing various motifs for understanding the relation of science and theology, this course defends a critical correlation of the disciplines that allows for theological and scientific propositions to make authentic truth claims that are in principle commensurate. The course develops a theology of nature that holds open the possibility of theo-physical causation.

- Cost: $75 includes five lunches and breaks, other meals on your own. (ILT students taking the class for credit pay usual tuition rate.)
- Hotel: $91/Night at Comfort Suites University, (605) 692-2882
$60/Night at Econo Lodge Inn & Suites, (605) 692-3111
Please say that you are with ILT when booking.
- Schedule: Begins Monday, June 24 at 9:00 a.m. and ends at noon on Friday, June 28. Evenings are free.
- Sessions are 9am-3pm Monday-Thursday and ending at noon on Friday June 28.

Dr. Dennis Bielfeldt

Dennis Bielfeldt has taught philosophy in higher education for over 30 years. He brings a welcome depth of knowledge of philosophy to the Lutheran faith. He currently serves as the President of the Institute of Lutheran Theology and regularly contributes to theological journals worldwide.

- Education
- B.S. South Dakota State University (1977)
 - M.A. University of Iowa (1984)
 - Ph.D. University of Iowa (1987)