thedailyknicker @leslunes 'George V' Balconnet Bra and Tanga. Les Lunes is a brand I've reviewed multiple times and had the pleasure of shooting for. What always strikes me (and why I keep going back to the brand) is the comfort level. Personally, I find the fit fantastic and I'm not sure if this is to the cut of their pieces or the fabric. All Les Lunes pieces are made from high quality bamboo which has great- how would I explain it?- 'moulding' properties(?) That is to say it feels like it hugs to and wraps around your body. Softer than cotton, it has a thin, velvety, almost super-fine cashmere-like texture. It is, bar silk, my favorite fabric to wear at home and I always wear Les Lunes sets on long-haul flights. 'George V' is LL designing a more decorative, pretty set and a bra that has more detailed construction for support. I like the addition of the geometric lace on
