

Fitting Your Saddle

Trip-Pulling Saddle

Slid the wing slip to one side. Place gently under the wing of hen. Once under comfortably, tighten gently by pulling wing slip on the other side. Place the second wing slip under hens wing. Even up to make comfortable. Adjust if too tight or loose, making sure the buckle clipped shut & is place back under the canvas to ensure it does not rub the hen.

Check your poultry saddle at regular intervals to ensure it is not rubbing on her anywhere causing discomfort. [For our side guards saddle, make sure these sit under the hens wings]

Saddles are a must for the breeding period, as an active cockerel can do a lot of damage to your hen, especially in the large fowl.

Thanks you for your purchase and visit us soon. Jane Hutchinson

Buy your saddle cheaper on our website:

<http://orpingtonsuk.com/poulttrysaddle.html>

For Pictures of fitting saddle visit

<http://www.orpingtonsuk.com/poulttrysaddle.html>

Youtube Fitting video, fitting hen saddle