

Special Feature

AT HOME WITH THE CEO AND HER PETS

THREADBONE
LEISURE
A NEW LUXURY

THE THRUPIECE
PHILHARMONIC HALL
FULL STEAM AHEAD

THREADBONE
WINERY
WINES OF THE YEAR

GREAT HEAVINGS

THE NEWSLETTER OF THE THRUPIECE ORGANIZATION

Scandalous Accusations Must Stop by Mrs Amanda J Threadbone

Colleagues will have been distressed to hear of the researches of so-called Professor Lars Resorte and his Danish henchmen and the accompanying scurrilous accusations that Professor Thrupiece was not the sole architect and author of the Bio-ethical Ambiguity tables which bear his noble and unblemished name. The hurt which this has caused is incalculable and I know that many of you feel personally vandalised by these unfounded suggestions.

Any questioning of the legitimacy
authenticity of Professor Thrupiece's authorship of the Thrupiece Tables
must be contested vigorously

Colleagues will wish to know, therefore, that, on behalf of the Thrupiece Organisation, the Threadbone Corporation and the late Professor's executors, I have issued instructions to Messrs Suem, Fleecem and Clubbem, the Group's solicitors to fight this matter with all the considerable resources at our collective disposal. Be assured that the Professor's name will emerge from these proceedings enhanced and unscathed.

If any colleague is asked questions by reporters, members of the public or research scientists from Denmark they must maintain a wall of absolute silence and refer all such enquirers to Campus Security.

Canteen matters

It is with regret that we inform all staff that prices in the campus Canteens will rise by approximately 25% with immediate effect. These wholly justifiable rises are the result of intense upward pressure on supply costs, the price of tea, coffee and avocados having risen by an average of 1.3%. Anyone inclined to blame these rises on Drexit and any uncertainty arising from it is advised that they are sadly mistaken. Mrs Threadbone has ruled that Drexit is a good thing and that all members of the group companies are strongly in favour of it.

Colleagues will wish to know that the Corporation has absorbed wholesale price increases for well over a week and is now forced to pass on these increased costs to canteen users if the usual profit margins of 20-30% are to be maintained. Barm Cakes will now be £2.50 (small) and £3.50 (large) irrespective of stuffings.

Have your say

The twice yearly meeting of the Have Your Say Group has been cancelled and those wishing to have their say will have to wait until the next scheduled meeting. Whilst Mrs Threadbone regrets her inability to meet with staff in this way, she feels certain that colleagues will appreciate she has far better things to do at the moment than listen to the whinings of an ungrateful group of employees who, far from understanding how lucky they are to work for a flagship Corporation with a worldwide reputation for probity and excellence, will simply use this as an opportunity to complain about the rise of Canteen prices.

Elsewhere in this issue...

Remembering Mr Threadbone: Spanish ex-Boy Scout Enrique on life with the mini-tractor ace; Fernando Mediantepieza: uncovering lost treasures of the chart-middling Latin Rhythm combo; Thirteen years on: Shelley-Lulette Sizemore reflects on her association with the late Professor Thrupiece and life with her new love Pyotr Stringbonefellow.