

A photograph of a man and a woman in a shower stall. The man is standing behind the woman, who is leaning against a wall. They are both shirtless and appear to be in a intimate pose.

To him you're just yesterday's shag but you want him back.
Right?

OK You've heard it all before - as far as he's concerned no-one's as great in the sack as you are. Blah blah blah. So why is he still playing away? Ever thought it's because you don't smell so good? All that gym work's great but does it leave you seriously niffy - like a fish-head trapped under a dog turd? Sound familiar?

Then for Christ's sake do something about it babes: sort yourself out and start smelling like Stringbonefellow's glamourous Drusilla Parker-Knowles. You know she gets it and you could too.

Not smelling like a tramp's anus is the secret

Scientific research has proven that anal bleaching and a full-on Hollywood waxing (with or without advanced anti-hyperhidrosis treatments) just aren't enough to make the naturally malodorous acceptable in the pornography industry. And that's where new POX comes in. It's used by 9 out of 10 accredited porn stars. New POX has a beneficial cosmetic action on your whole body which actively helps it fight sweaty odours, studio mange and the effects of over-exposure to hot lights, keeping you moist, fresh and ready for action as soon as that camera rolls and the big boys come out.

For the best results use this way every day: douse liberally, ignite the fumes and plunge into a pool (first making sure that others are not performing acts of simulated coitus in the adjacent jacuzzi).

New POX is available without prescription

... unlike other similar products new POX does not require a visit to a local clinic and most users self-diagnose shortly after being tipped off by their nauseated partners. As soon as those tell-tale signs start appearing (have to change the sheets more than twice a day? Partner gagging when you open Pandora's Box? Can't stand the smell of your own gooch?) you can start using POX without delay. So come on girls: get dousing. You'll be as active as Drusilla Parker-Knowles before you know it. And you know she gets it! Geddit?
