

Let's admit it: despite what your Insta suggests, your dog isn't always so angelic. Take, for example, when you have sex. Some dogs don't care, but the majority (in fact, 64%<sup>1</sup>) interrupt the act on a regular basis.

Fortunately, there's a simple solution:
Visit your local shelter and adopt another dog<sup>2</sup>!

Sorry, braggarts: This does not technically count as a foursome.

And if you've picked right, your furry friends should be a little too busy to even consider interrupting your next scrump sesh. You're welcome!
