THE GREEN RIVER FESTIVAL 2019

FROM FESTIVAL DIRECTOR JIM OLSEN

Welcome to the 33rd annual Green River Festival!

This summer marks the 50th anniversary of the landmark Woodstock Music & Arts Festival. After five decades, that magic happenstance of hippies, music, and mud is the first thing that comes to mind when you use the term "music festival." It should have been a disaster, but instead it's remembered as a watershed moment in American music culture – the first real music festival. Subsequent attempts at recreating the magic with anniversary festivals have failed miserably. A 50th anniversary festival planned for this summer has crashed and burned. Woodstock only happened once, but it spawned hundreds of music festivals.

Welcome to the 33rd annual Green River Festival. Every year since 1986, we've taken over the fields of Greenfield Community College for our annual celebration of music, local culture and community. From the beginning, our goals have been a lot more modest than Woodstock, but the idea is the same: let's get our tribe together for a big midsummer party.

What keeps a festival going for over three decades? We'd like to think that our formula of great bands, a kid-friendly atmosphere, and excellent local food and drink keep you coming back. It helps that we have a beautiful festival site and the best audience anywhere. But to keep it fresh, you need surprises.

Every year we like to try something new to add the element of surprise. Last year, the addition of the Green House Stage brought us intimate, spur of the moment acoustic sets from some of our headliners. Imagine having Michael Franti, Deer Tick or I'm With Her perform on your patio. Who'll pop up on the Green House Stage this year? Download the festival app to be in the know about when these magic moments are going to happen.

We think the best surprise we can give you is helping you discover a new favorite band. Make sure you check out what's happening on all five of our stages. Catching rising stars like Tyler Chiders, Samantha Fish, Low Cut Connie or Home Body might just make your weekend. And it's not just the music. We have some other surprises in store for you as well.

A big thanks to our great sponsors, volunteers, and staff who come together to bring you this weekend of festival magic every year, and a big thanks to you for taking the ride with us.

THE GREEN RIVER FESTIVAL 2019

PROGRAM NOTES by JOHNNY MEMPHIS

:: FRIDAY NIGHT :::: JULY 12 ::

9:15
MAIN

LUCINDA WILLIAMS

Just by sticking to her guns, Lucinda Williams spearheaded the creation of a musical genre. "There wasn't Americana at the time. It is a little bit country and rock, and fell into the cracks," Williams told Billboard magazine about her Rough Trade album called Lucinda Williams (1988.) On that disc Lucinda found her songwriting stride with exquisitely realized songs like "Passionate Kisses," "Crescent City", and "Side of the Road". Every song was a model of compression and detail delivered with her languid Louisiana drawl. The Rough Trade album was a cult classic, but her breakthrough album came ten years later with Car Wheels on a Gravel Road. That album won her the first of three Grammys. When Lucinda Williams played Green River in 2008, she invited a couple who had gotten married at the festival that day to come on stage and dedicated a song to them.

PARSONSFIELD

Parsonsfeld's live shows have a contagious, frothy energy that can swing from a rowdy romp to a quiet hush. While lead-singer Chris Freeman bounces around the stage and keyboardist Max Shakun whips his curly locks to the beat, banjoist Antonio Alcorn stands calmly like he stepped out of a 19th century daguerreotype. Everybody sings, everybody switches instruments, everybody gets in the spirit. On songs like "Weeds or Wildflowers" they sound like the Avett Brothers northern cousins. Based out of Leverett, MA, the band first came together at the University of Connecticut. Parsonsfeld took their name from the rural town in Maine where they recorded their first album in 2013.

6:35
MAIN

HEATHER MALONEY

In 2014 Singer-songwriter Heather Maloney got some big love from the New York Times for her sublime cover of Joni Mitchell's "Woodstock" that she recorded with Darlingside. Like Joni, Heather is a musical adventurer, vocal acrobat and creative soul. For her new album Soil in the Sky, Heather took forty new songs on tour and had the audiences vote for their favorites. Seven out of 10 top vote-getters made the album which she recorded with guests like Rachael Price of Lake Street Dive and Taylor Goldsmith of Dawes. Soil in the Sky just came out in June. Last fall Heather wowed the crowd at the inaugural Arcadia Folk Festival, which will be happening again in late September in Easthampton.

5:10
MAIN

UPSTATE

The first time Upstate appeared at Green River they were busking on the main stage field by the Bart's Ice Cream truck. They were a sensational street band- three harmonizing women vocalists like the early Pointer Sisters fronting a lively acoustic band with the drummer gleefully thumping a box-shaped drum- seat. They were so impressive that the next year they got a proper stage gig at the festival. This Hudson Valley band (formerly known as Upstate Rubdown) has retained that thrilling vocal sound with singers Mary Kenney, Melanie Glenn and Allison Olender. Their new album Healing was produced by Wood Brothers drummer Jano Rix.

STAGE

LAKOU MIZIK

In Haitian the word "lakou" means backyard gathering place, home or "where you are from." Lakou Mizik invites listeners to join them in their vibrant musical lakou. This nine-piece collective joins guitars with call and response singing, voodoo rhythms and troubadour accordion to create uplifting anthems. Formed in the aftermath of Haiti's devastating earthquake of 2010, Lakou Mizik is an intergenerational band of elder legends and rising young talents. The title cut to their album Wa Di Yo is a testament to their invincible spirit. "Wa di yo, nou la toujou ("You tell them, we're still here!")

DEAN'S BEANS
STAGE

LADAMA

The core four women of Ladama hail from Venezuela, Brazil, Columbia and the United States. Lara Klaus, Daniela Serna, Mafer Bandola and Sara Lucas met in 2014 through the One Beat Program, which brings together musical leaders around the globe. Incorporating traditional instruments like the bandola llanera and the pandeiro frame drum, Ladama makes exciting, rhythm-forward music in South American styles like cumbia, maracatu and onda nueva. Ladama also works on socially engaged projects in all four of their native countries to empower youth and women through music. As they say in their TED talk, Ladama "acts globally and thinks locally."

MTALI SHAKA BANDA ONENESS PROJECT

In 2017 saxophonist Mtali Shaka Banda released his debut album as a band leader The Oneness Project: Rites of Passage. A blend of jazz, hip-hop and soul music the album features Mtali's strong sax work over bumpin' grooves like "The Vibe" and "Back in the Day." The son of Milwaukee refugee father and an African-American gospel choir director mother, Mtali grew up with lots of music in the house. After graduating from UMass with a concentration in jazz he toured with the Jeremy Turgeon Quartet and was featured at the 2018 Springfield Jazz & Roots Festival.

:: SATURDAY :::: JULY 12 ::

MAIN

ANGÉLIQUE KIDJO: REMAIN IN LIGHT

"And you may find yourself, living in a shotgun shack," sings Angelique Kidjo from her re-imagined album of the Talking Heads Remain in Light (2018.) "And you may find yourself, in another part of the world," sings Kidjo, the Benin-born singer based in Paris. "And you may ask yourself, how did I get here?" Kidjo got to Green River because she is a world music superstar who commands the stage with her leonine presence and commanding voice. She is also a human rights activist. Her Batonga Foundation empowers and educates the most excluded adolescent girls in Africa. Angelique Kidjo has collaborated with U2, Vampire Weekend and Dave Matthews. Her newest album Celia (2019) is a tribute to salsa legend Celia Cruz.

4:30
MAIN

TYLER CHILDERS

Rolling Stone describes Tyler Childers voice as "halfway between a confession and a holler." Growing up in the hollers of Eastern Kentucky coal country

Childers, not only inherited a gritty vocal twang and an Appalachian point of view, he has a diamond-bright talent that makes him one of the most heralded new singer-songwriters in America. His 2017 album Purgatory is a brilliant collection of songs that bring to mind Hank Williams, John Prine and Sturgill Simpson, who co-produced the album. Childers (pronounced "Chill-derz") was discovered by TV viewers when his music was featured on Anthony Bourdain's "Parts Unknown" episode about West Virginia.

MAIN

PAMELA MEANS

To celebrate the 50th anniversary of Abbey Road, Pamela Means recently performed that whole Beatles album, in order, solo, on acoustic guitar. Means has the skills and the artistic vision to pull off this kind of feat with aplomb. Best known for her folk music career she is also a fine jazz singer and social activist. Originally from Milwaukee, she moved to Boston and now lives in the Pioneer Valley. Curve magazine called her "one of the fiercest guitar players and politically rooted singer-songwriters in the music industry today." Her latest recording, the driving "Impeachment Now!" pulls no punches. "The president, is incompetent, an embarrassment, im-peach-ment now."

MAIN

THE WOOD BROTHERS

The Wood Brothers make a lot of music for a trio. Chris Wood, of Medeski, Martin &

Wood fame, is such a talented, melodic bass player that he acts like another lead instrument while still anchoring the sound. Drummer Jano Ricks is a multi-instrumentalist who has a keyboard as part of his drum-kit. Lead-singer Oliver Wood plays percussive guitar and has a backwoods voice that rings through the valley. The Wood Brothers most recent album One Drop of Truth (2018) included wonderful songs like the cresting "River Takes the Town" and the funky "Happiness Jones." The Wood Brothers grew up in Boulder, CO and are now based Nashville. They played Green River in 2015.

2:55
MAIN

SAMANTHA FISH

Samantha Fish is the latest in a line of women blues singers who can wail on electric guitar. Following in the footsteps of people like Bonnie Raitt, Susan Tedeschi, and Debbie Davies, Samantha knows her place on stage. "A woman with an instrument is in a position of power," said Ms. Fish in a recent interview. Winner of the 2018 Female Blues Artist of the Year at the Blues Music Awards, Samantha Fish also plays country ballads, Southern rock and sultry R&B. Growing up in Missouri, Fish, 30, learned at the feet of touring blues artists who performed at Knuckleheads Saloon in Kansas City. This spring she toured Europe and played a standout show at the New Orleans Jazzfest.

DEAN'S BEANS
STAGE

THE STONE COYOTES

The Stone Coyotes are a family band that really rock. Songwriter Barbara Keith and her husband/drummer Doug Tibbles are joined by their sons John Tibbles and Doug Tibbles, Jr. on guitars. When this family gets together they play hard-driving guitars that underscore the drama in Keith's vivid stories. Barbara Keith's more Americana songs have been covered by the likes of Patty Loveless ("The Bramble and the Rose,") Delaney & Bonnie ("Free the People") and Tanya Tucker ("The Pride of Franklin County.") Speaking of Franklin County, the band lives in Greenfield, MA and also in Los Angeles, where they were discovered by writer Elmore Leonard, who made them an integral part of his novel "Be Cool," the sequel to "Get Shorty."

6:15
MAIN

LOW CUT CONNIE

There is just something about standing on a piano that is so rock 'n' roll. On "Late Night with Seth Myers" Adam Weiner of Low Cut Connie was standing on top of the piano before the song "All These Kids Are Way Too High" had even begun. A wild-man entertainer in the style of Little Richard, Jerry Lee Lewis and early Elton John, band leader Adam Weiner is based out of Philadelphia. On tour he brings his $100 beat-up piano called "Shondra" that "he treats like a pommel horse," says NPR. The band plays strong Stony rock 'n' roll or as their website calls it: "A New Boogie for All Mankind."

MAIN

THE SUITCASE JUNKET

Suitcase Junket is on a roll. In the past week alone, this one-man rock band from Everett has performed at the High Sierra Music Festival north of Sacramento and the Mariposa Folk Festival north of Toronto. Touring 200 shows a year must be especially challenging for a guitarist who sits on a Rube Goldberg drum kit made out of recycled flotsam and jetsam that he plays with his feet. Mr. Junket (aka Matt Lorenz) has a terrific new album called Mean Dog, Trampoline on Signature Sounds produced by Steve Berlin of Los Lobos. Check out the wonderful stop-motion video for the song "High Beams" that brings to life Lorenz's extensive necktie collection.

DEAN'S BEANS
STAGE

SPANGLISH FLY

Spanglish Fly specializes in boogaloo, the music that originated in the Spanish Harlem music scene in the mid-sixties. Combining Afro-Cuban rhythms with American soul and English lyrics boogaloo was an easy Latin music on-ramp for gringos and super danceable for everybody. Ten years ago Spanglish Fly in NYC decided to revive boogaloo and expand its possibilities. This 11-piece band features double-lead vocalists and great tunes like their bolero/salsa cover of Amy Winehouse's "You Know I'm No Good/ Chica Mala Mambo." Estás ready for Spanglish Fly?

BIKE VALET SERVICE

Green River Festival is looking to go even greener by encouraging festival-goers to travel to the festival by bicycle through a partnership with MassBike, who is offering complimentary bicycle valet parking service. Ride your bike and have it safely and securely parked for you. At the end of the day, simply retrieve your bike, and away you go!

The Massachusetts Bicycle Coalition (MassBike) promotes a bicycle friendly environment and encourages bicycling for fun, fitness, and transportation. The Pioneer Valley chapter supports these goals from the Connecticut to the Vermont border, helping communities find the joy in cycling.

FOOD VENDORS

AHLI BABA'S KABOB SHOP brings their perennial good cheer, deep experience, and delicious pita goodness — falafel, veggie curry, gyros, chicken — as well as fresh cut and sweet potato fries to the Upper Field. (Burlington, VT)

BARTS HOMEMADE ICE CREAM CO. has been keeping bellies happy at the festival for almost as long as the festival has been around! Small batches, high quality ingredients, a 16% butterfat content, and creative, community-sourced flavors make this a long-time favorite. Find Barts for delicious, hand packed ice cream and sorbet at Food Truck Lane, on the grass by the East Building (Greenfield, MA).

BERKSHIRE BREWING CO Established in 1994 in S. Deerfield, MA, Berkshire Brewing Company is New England's premier regional craft brewery. They keep it simple: brewing ales and lagers fresh in small batches. They keep it real: all of their beers are unfiltered, unpasteurized, and contain no chemical additives or preservatives. Enjoy their fine selection of brews, along with wine, hard cider, and Ginger Libation. (South Deerfield, MA)

BINGE BBQ is a family run restaurant that uses a custom built offset style smoker with seasoned oak logs as cooking fuel. Find them in the Food Truck Lane for Korean bbq chicken nuggets, short ribs, beef brisket, and pork & lamb shoulder with all the accoutrements: fresh slaw, buttered corn grits, mac & cheese croquettes, relish, pickles, sauteed garlic greens, and sarsaparilla-birch bbq glaze. (Newport, RI)

BROCCOLI BAR/PINGALA CAFE Vermont born, chef-inspired, and slinging broccoli like there's no tomorrow, the Broccoli Bar offers a truly customizable, delicious experience. Customers can choose the size of their basket and exactly what goes inside and on top — triple garlic broccoli, tempura broccoli, maple-sriracha dumplings, broccoli-coconut green curry sauce, sticky rice, and complimentary toppings. Find them on the Lower Field near the Beer & Wine tent (Burlington, VT).

CROOKED STICK POPS creates craft ice pops w. locally sourced ingredients. Their pops feature berries, stone fruit, apples, pears, melons, herbs, flowers, and spices from local Valley farms. Purists love Orange Cream & Strawberry Lemonade, while the adventurous might try Toasted Coconut Cream Coffee or Watermelon Jalapeno. Find their sweet tricycle cart roving the lower field, with a home base at the end of the Maker's Market on the Lower Field (Easthampton, MA).

DARK MATTER MEDICINALS With their primary focus revolving around the mysterious and sophisticated microcosm of fungi, Dark Matter Medicinals offers Vermont wild harvested medicinal mushroom based products as well as delicious beverages including Chaga Cold Brew Coffee, Chaga Ginger Tea, Lion's Mane Coconut Matcha Latte, Brain Booster Shots with Lion's Mane Mushroom, and Chaga Cold Brew Coffee milk. Find them at the end of Makers Market on the Lower Field. (Putney, VT)

DEAN'S BEANS offers delicious hot and iced coffee and fruit smoothies at a fair price with a conscience. For over two decades, festival sponsor Dean's Beans' mission has been clear: To use high quality specialty coffee as a vehicle for progressive change throughout the coffee lands of Asia, Africa and the Americas. Stay well-fueled all festival long and be sure to try their Nitro Cold Brew Iced Coffee served on tap. Find their trucks (yes, TWO!) on the Lower Field near the Dean's Beans Stage and in Food Truck Lane next to the Beer & Wine tent. (Orange, MA).

FANCHEEZICAL returns for their fifth year, bringing their fantastical and magical cheez-in-the-middle fare. Deliciousness at every turn: Old skool grilled cheese, Bacon & Jam, BBQ, Nachos, Cornina cup, and Agua frescas & fresh cut watermelon to keep us festival-cool. Look for Fancheezical's fun, whimsical yellow food truck in the Food Truck Lane. (Swansea, MA).

GIGGLES has been serving up their famous fresh popped kettle corn, fresh squeezed lemon and limeade, and good cheer at the GRFest for over ten years! They will also be bringing their delicious apple cider donuts to the mix. Kettle corn is both gluten and dairy free. Find Sherie and family at their usual Midfield spot next to Bart's ice cream. (Shelton, CT).

HATTAPON'S THAI KITCHEN Beth and Hattaporn sharpen their recipes with annual trips to Thailand, infusing their food with experience, love, goodness, and humor. Make your belly sing with their pescatarian tofu pad thai, chicken satay, vegan banana rolls, cucumber salad, and Thai iced tea. Everything is gluten-free except their sweet banana rolls. Find them in the Upper Field. (Greenfield, MA).

HOLYOKE HUMMUS COMPANY serves up fresh, hot and tasty falafel plates, sliders, skewers, & sandwiches, hummus, fried brussel sprouts, grape leaves, and other Middle Eastern treats, with all the delectable accoutrements — citrusy tomato cucumber salad, pickled turnips, dollops of Holyoke Hummus with some pita (soft or chips), or a pair of stuffed grape leaves. Be sure to try out their famous Falafelsicle. Find them in the Food Truck Lane. (Holyoke, MA)

INDIAN EATS crafts their authentic Indian food with passion. A delightful blend of flavorful original recipes, vegetarian, and gluten free options for the festival goer. Tasty, Healthy, Hearty. Offerings include Chicken tikka masala, Curry chicken, & Tandoori chicken, all over cilantro jasmine rice; Beery cheezy garlic naan, and Samosas with chutney. Find them in the Upper Field. (Fairfield, CT)

JAJU PIEROGI Sixty-five years ago, Jaju Pierogi's founders' grandfather, or Jaju, started a Polish food business with his brothers and sisters in Western Massachusetts—hand-crafting pierogi, golabki, and kielbasa for their community. In 2015, Vanessa and Casey dusted off their grandfather's handwritten recipes and founded Jaju Pierogi to bring their Jaju's delicious recipes and flavors to the Boston area. This is their first Green River Festival. Find them on the Upper Field! (Lynn, MA)

LA VERACRUZANA is well known for their authentic, delicious Mexican food throughout the valley. With over 25 years experience, their burritos, quesadillas, and fajitas — bean, chicken, steak, cheese, veggie — never disappoint. Find them on the Upper Field near the Main Stage. (Amherst and Northampton, MA).

MACDONALD FARM Pioneers in the organic and health food movement, the MacDonalds have been growing organic vegetables and preparing fermented foods for over 40 years! From their farm in upstate New York, MacDonald Farm brings their naturally-fermented pickles, Kimchi, sauerkraut, and more. A great way to enhance your festival meals—or bring home to enjoy! Find MacDonald Farm on the Lower Field at the end of Maker's Market. (Clyde, NY)

MAPLE MAMA BEVERAGES debuted their organic, non-GMO, hand-crafted maple-infused beverages at the festival three years ago to much acclaim. Enjoy Raspberry-Lime, Ginger-Lemon, Vanilla Bean and Cold Brew Coffee craft soft drinks lightly sweetened with locally-harvested maple syrup — with 54 antioxidants, 7 minerals and vitamins, and only 70 calories. Now serving their deliciousness in cans! Find Maple Mama's homebase at the end of the Maker's Market on the Lower Field, and roving in their handcart throughout the Lower Field. (Wendell, MA).

MAPLE VALLEY CREAMERY generously scoops up delicious 16.59% super premium ice cream using fresh local milk and cream. Maple Valley Creamery actively supports and engages local youth with opportunities to learn and grow through the 4H Club. Find their ice cream truck on the Lower Field by the Dean's Beans Stage for delicious hard ice cream, frozen yogurt, or dairy-free sorbet served in a cone or a cup and at their Mill Valley Milk Company farm store in Hadley, MA. (Hadley, MA).

MISO TOH KOME Specializing in Japanese Onigiri, the accomplished chefs at Miso Toh Kome work closely with local farmers and vendors to bring you authentic Japanese treats with tasty New England ingredients. Stop in to see their fast and funky staff serving NE lobster Wakame Salad and Spicy Tuna, Ume Boshi, and Cha-shu Pork Belly rice balls (onigiri). Miso Toh Kome will be serving up deliciousness in the Food Truck Lane. (Westfield, VT)

OLD FRIENDS FARM grows 28 acres of certified organic salads, vegetables, and flowers, and brings their award-winning specialty products to the festival: ginger cookies, ice cream sandwiches, shaved ices and Italian sodas, all made with their own ginger, turmeric and generous helpings of their own farm-fresh, certified-organic mixed greens and vegetable salads. Find them on the left hand corner of the Upper Field, just as you enter through the main gate. (Amherst, MA).

PAPA DOGS In their seventh year at the festival, PaPa Dogs raises their own heritage breed, grass-fed and finished cattle at their family's Fox Hill Farm in NY state, and bring their own grass-fed beef hot dogs and hamburgers — with no added nitrates and all the awesome toppings — as well as organic vegan veggie-burgers. New this year: a delicious egg & bacon breakfast sammy. Find PaPa Dogs on the Upper Field, on the far corner nearest the Main Stage. (Ancramdale, NY).

PIZZA TO THE PEOPLE brings the energy of their woman-owned farm-to-fire collective to the festival, using produce from Lyonsville Farm in Charlemont to craft delicious, vegetarian, organic wood fired pizzas and organic hibiscus lemonade. Pizzas include the Green Power Pie (kale, sauce, onions and mozz), Classic Cheese, Zucchini and Pesto, Local 'Shrooms with local shiitakes and thyme, Herbalicious (a white pie with fresh herbs), Peppers and Onions. Find them in Food Truck Lane. (Roxbury, CT).

RAW YOU-NIVERSE is all about creating and sharing raw organic smoothies to keep people hydrated and energized. Using fresh or frozen organic fruit, with a spring water base, Raw You-niverse infuses their smoothies with agave, local greens, and add-ins: Mango Tango (mango & pineapple), The Classic (strawberry & banana), Berry Green Up (blueberry, blackberry, strawberry, raspberry, kale), Fully Loaded (pineapple, peach, kale, chia, hemp, flax), Zinger (pineapple, mango, ginger), and more! Find them on the Upper Field. (Middletown, CT)

ROOT JUICE is an authentic Farm to Cup Juice and Smoothie Bar. Using fresh organic produce from their farm in Central VT, they source locally when possible for what they don't produce. Making on-site supah dupah fresh juiced and blended nutritious beverages and treats, Root Juice offers a long list of creative, refreshing smoothies, fruit and vegetable juices, ginger shots, vegan maple banana soft serve, smoothie bowls, apple cider, juice and smoothie pops, and fresh fruit. Find Root Juice on the Lower Field at the end of the Maker's Market. (Roxbury, VT)

SAMOSA MAN When Fuad Ndibalema started selling his delicious samosas on the street back in 2001, he never could have imagined that Samosa Man would become such a success. Their aim continues to be the creation of the whole meal with intense flavor combinations that have become their trademark. These include Vermont Apple, Veggie, Braco, Spicy Potato, Roasted Tofu, Steak & Cheese, Chicken & Cheese, Turkey—on the Lower Field next to the Dean's Beans Stage. (Boston, MA; Hanover, NH; and Barre, VT)

SANTO TACO brings their delicious, authentic Mexican street food to the GRFest for the first time this summer! Specializing in making tacos using local, organic and sustainable products whenever possible, Santo Taco also offers vegan, vegetarian and gluten free options. Options include Tinga de Carne, Al Pastor, Adobo, Alambre Vegetariano, Tempeh, Cactus, & Molletes. Try their homemade salsas, nachos, Virgin Pina Colada, and Aguas Frescas! Find Santo Taco on the Lower Field at the end of Maker's Market facing the Dean's Beans Stage. (Wendell, MA)

SIMPLE GIFTS FARM As the stewards of the North Amherst Community Farm, Simple Gifts uses organic and sustainable farming methods and green energy to grow 20 acres of organic vegetables, raise happy and healthy animals, and tend to their own farm store. They will be serving up grass-fed beef in a smoked kielbasa, organic potato fries, organic Thai basil peanut slaw, and hand crafted frankfurters. Find Simple Gifts Farm on the Lower Field at the end of Makers Market. They'll have locally brewed Katalyst Kombucha on tap! (North Amherst, MA)

TEA GUYS Tea Guys has been a tea blender since 2002 and a great GRF sponsor since 2016! Offering both hot and iced tea bags, matcha powder, bulk tea, tea concentrates, and an extremely exciting, first-of-its-kind, sparkling tea. Visit their booth for iced tea, sangria and beer shandys. You can find the Tea Guys stall next to the Main Stage (Whately, MA)

THE SKINNY PANCAKE offers a variety of farm-to-table sweet and savory crepes, all made to order, with delicious options to meet most dietary needs. SP sources ingredients that are local and whole, with blueberries, apples, butter, eggs, cheese, honey, and meats. Sweet favorites include the Choco Nutty, the Choco Monkey, the Lemon Classic, and the Apple Crispy. Savory favorites include Early Riser and Breakfast Monster sandwiches, local basil pesto, BBQ pulled pork, and the Ham & Cheddar. Find them on the Upper Field. (Burlington, VT)

SQUIRREL STASH NUTS Started by Western MA sweethearts Bradley & Meaghan, Squirrel Stash Nuts uses only wholesome ingredients to create a variety of roasted and maple cinnamon glazed nuts and seeds, all packaged in compostable bags and labels. Stop by their booth in the Lower Field for free samples — including their BUZZED cashews, maple glazed turmeric chai spiced Jahmu cashews, Sweet Heat chipotle pecans, tapped maple cinnamon glazed nuts, and organic pumpkin seeds. Be sure to look for them roving the fields! (Granby, MA)

THREE LEAF FOODS is a woman-owned, family business serving up healthy, wholesome, and tasty food throughout New England since 1990. Jody and crew have been serving up their delicious veggie and chicken wraps and rice bowls at the festival for 15 years! Using sauteed local veggies, and either marinated tofu or chicken for protein, Three Leaf offers different flavored wraps and your choice of rice, cheeses, and sauces, including roasted garlic, smoked tomato, sesame lime, hot or soy sauce. Find them on the Upper Field. (Portland, ME)

TING TING DUMPLINGS, formerly Good to Go, have been vending their dumplings, noodles, and sticky rice at the festival for years! Offerings include Chinatown Steamed Dumplings, Red Curried Dumplings, Sweet and Spicy Bacon Dumplings, Sticky Rice with various toppings, Buddha Rice Bowl, Baller Rice Bowl, Korean-style Cool Noodles, Thai Basil Limeade, and Mint Iced Tea. Be sure to try their new Green River Special this year. Find Michael and crew at the rotary end of the Food Truck Lane. (Warren, VT)

VIBESMAN'S JERK SHACK - After running a Tequila bar & catering company in Australia for 10 years, Elijah Lagreze has returned to Western Mass to work at his family's farm. Find Vibesman's Jerk Shack on the Lower Field to the right of the Dean's Beans Stage at the end of the Maker's Market, for jerk chicken, mahi mahi, and vegan coconut curry on rice and peas, hibiscus cooler and vegan elote. (Amherst, MA)

WHEELHOUSE cooks with the seasons, sourcing all ingredients from local farms when they are at their peak deliciousness, and makes everything from scratch. The motivation behind their work is to connect people with food, place, and time. Find Wheelhouse in the Food Truck Lane, serving gluten-free quesadillas and assorted tacos, all made with local organic corn. Wash it down with a cold drink of New England Switchel. # GREEN RIVER FESTIVAL

ARTISTS

:: SATURDAY ::: JULY 12 (CONT'D):

RED BARAAT

Like a traveling street festival, Red Baraat will sweep you up with their joyous Bollywood party music. Led by mustachioed frontman Sunny Jain on the double-sided dhol drum, this eight-piece band infuse their North Indian bhangra with go-go and hip-hop til you can't stop. For Lincoln Center's 60th anniversary celebration in May of this year Sunny Jain created Red Baraat Plus with 135 musicians who performed a mighty mash-up of Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" with Jay-Z's "Empire State of Mind." Based in Brooklyn, Red Baraat played Green River in 2015.

HOME BODY

Home Body is a theatrical art-pop duo from Greenfield featuring the powerful vocals of Haley Morgan and the enveloping textures of Eric Hnatow on synthesizers. Since 2011 Home Body has been delivering entrancing music that brings to mind artists like Bjork, Kate Bush and early Eurythmics. While they perform, Morgan and Hnatow dance like no one's watching and manipulate a light show to create a "spirited synth spectacle." The tags at the bottom of their Bandcamp page include- "avant-pop, electro soul, fever dream, shimmer core, Greenfield."

LOWDOWN BRASS BAND

Chicago meets New Orleans is how the Lowdown Brass Band describes their music. "For us it came up the Mississippi River," said saxophonist David Levine, one of the four core members who first met at DePaul University in the Windy City. Inspired by Crescent City brass bands like Rebirth and the Dirty Dozen Brass Band, Lowdown features inter-weaving horns over rubbery sousaphone and funky drumbeats. Along with a host of original tunes, the band has a fine hip-hop version of The Specials' "Ghost Town" and a simmering ska take on The Wailers' "Concrete Jungle."

CHARLIE HUNTER & LUCY WOODWARD

Guitarist extraordinaire Charlie Hunter has teamed up with vocalist Lucy Woodward on a new album of vintage pop and classic standards. The album is bass and guitar at the same time. Like Hunter, Lucy Woodward is a longtime pop and jazz polymath who had a Top 40 radio hit in 2003 with "Dumb Girls."

MAMMA'S MARMALADE

"A burst of sunshine that makes dark clouds dissipate," is how the Valley Advocate described

"Goodbye Black Velvet" (2017) the debut album by Mamma's Marmalade. This Northampton-based bluegrass quintet formed in 2014 and have performed at FreshGrass, Club Passim and the Parlor Room. They just released a high-energy, new album called Rockabee Fields that includes the fast-picking single "Fire" and a bracing duet called "Run Right Over Me." The ingredients for Mamma's Marmalade are Lily Sexton (fiddle, vocals), Mitch Bordage (mandolin, vocals), Rich Hennessy (banjo, vocals), Curtis Bordage (bass) and Sean Davis (guitar, vocals.)

SESSION AMERICANA

Session Americana describe themselves as "a rock band in a teacup, or possibly a folk band in a whiskey bottle." With these legendary Boston roots-rockers, it's all about the song, not the volume. They usually play sitting down, gathered around a table, often joined by special guests. Seeing Session Americana live is like being in the kitchen at an after hours jam session with ace musicians. The band features multi-instrumentalists Ry Cavanaugh, Dinty Child and Jon Bistline along with drummer Billy Beard and harmonica Jim Fitting. Fitting, of Treat Her Right fame, jammed on stage with Los Lobos at Green River in 2012.

SEAN MCCONNELL

Sean McConnell's Secondhand Smoke is his 13th album, which is a lot for a guy in his mid-thirties a songwriter for country stars like Tim McGraw, Martina McBride and Brad Paisley. In 2018 he co-wrote "Mercy," a number one country hit for Brett Young. As he soulfully sings on his excellent new album "I've put my name on songs I'll never sing/ I've gambled on my muse."

known as a songwriter for other people. McConnell grew up in the Boston folk music scene until the age of 11 when his family moved to Georgia. After high school McConnell moved to Nashville where he became

ALI MCGUIRK

"When she opens her mouth, people stop and take notice, captivated by her swooping, honeyed voice," said the Improper Bostonian about the soulful folksinger Ali McGuirk. Based out of Cambridge McGuirk wrote her first song about ten years ago when she was a student at UMass Amherst. In 2016 Boston Globe rock critic picked her out along with Lake Street Dive as a must-hear artist. Her 2017 album Slow Burn is well-named, bringing to mind influences like Marvin Gaye. Ali McGuirk will be performing at Green River with Session Americana.

LITTLE ROOTS/IN THE NICK OF TIME

Annie Stevenson and Maggie Shar, recognize the value of quality live music for people of all ages. Maggie and Annie select and write songs rooted in a variety of musical traditions: American Folk, Gospel, Irish Trad, West African, Native American, Rock, Jazz and Blues amongst others. The repertoire is fun and accessible, including elements of storytelling and exposure to a variety of instruments. Fronted by husband and wife team Nick Deysher and Tracey Freitag, In The Nick of Time have been performing family music for over a decade. Their music is an eclectic blend of rock, funk, jazz, hip-hop, reggae, and folk with a bit of something for everyone. Their shows are a high-energy celebration of themes that appeal to young children with a nostalgic musical style that appeals to the parents in the crowd. In The Nick of Time are truly "Music for all BIG and small!"

:: SUNDAY :::: JULY 14 ::

THE DEVIL MAKES THREE

When the Devil Makes Three played Green River in 2013, there were just three of them: Pete Bernhard on guitar, Lucia Turino on upright bass and Cooper McBean on guitar and banjo. Based in Santa Cruz, CA, all three members of the band grew up in Vermont (Bernhard and McBean around Brattleboro.) Last year the band added a fiddler and a drummer (Stefan Amidon, another Brattleboro guy.) The newest DMT release, Live at Red Rocks, 2019 is a collection of classic redemption and ruin songs like "Deep Down," which sounds like a jaunty old-time tune until you find yourself singing along, "Deep in my heart, I'm a terrible man." Like the band says, "If you're going to do wrong, buddy, do wrong right."

THE RECORD COMPANY

Chris Vos, the lead-singer and guitarist for The Record Company grew up on a dairy farm in new Munster, Wisconsin. When his wife got a job in L.A. they moved to California and Vos put an ad on Craigslist looking for like-minded musicians. Bassist Alex Stiff (originally from Wayne, PA) and drummer Marc Cazorla (Elmira, NY) showed up and they bonded over the stripped down blues of John Lee Hooker and Canned Heat. Playing in small L.A. clubs the trio built a buzz and recorded an album in Vos's living room that was released by Concord Records in 2016. On songs like "I'm Getting Better (And I'm Feeling it Right Now)" The Record Company builds powerhouse grooves from the ground up.

RHIANNON GIDDENS

When Rhiannon Giddens performed at the Green River Festival in 2011 as part of the Carolina Chocolate Drops trio, she already had star power. Strumming a minstrel banjo, Giddens had the presence and resolute voice of '60s icons like Odetta and Joan Baez. Classically trained at Oberlin as a soprano, Giddens champions the African-American roots of string band music. Since 2011 she has released three solo albums, composed a ballet score and won a MacArthur genius award (2017.) This year she released the Songs of Our Native Daughters album with three other black women banjo players and was featured in a four-night residency with the Boston Pops titled "Redefining American Music." Rhiannon Giddens grew up in rural North Carolina.

EILEN JEWELL

Eilen Jewell's forthcoming album Gypsy (due in August) sounds like her best record yet. The opening song "Crawl" could be a lost Creedence Clearwater Revival track with its trembling tremolo guitar. "You Cared Enough to Lie" is a classic Patsy Cline shuffle and "79 Cents" is Eilen channeling Loretta Lynn. "Whether she's rich or toilin' in a ditch, no matter the color of her collar, the heart of your home, works her fingers to the bone, for 79 cents to your dollar." Raised in Idaho, Eilen spent a decade in the Boston Americana music scene where she joined forces with ace guitar-picker Jerry Miller. Eilen's clear-as-a-mountain-stream voice and Jerry's six-string fireworks are a classic combination.

THE EAST POINTERS

The East Pointers's music is laced with stuttered triplets- the stop-and-go picking that ripples through Celtic music like the fluttering wings of a bird. Fiddler/singer Tim Chaisson and banjo-playing cousin Koady Chaisson come from a clan of Prince Edward Island musicians going back seven generations. Joined by guitarist Jake Charron, the East Pointers won a Juno Award for their debut album Secret Victory in 2015 and followed that with the atmospheric alt-pop of the "What We Leave Behind". In concert, small shifts in their circulating rhythms feel crucial. When this virtuosic band flies into one of their soaring melodies, the audience flies with them.

FANTASTIC NEGRITO

Fantastic Negrito is an amazing story. Born in the Berkshires, Xavier Amin Dhrepaullez was the 8th of 15 children raised in a strict Somali-Caribbean household. At the age of 12 his family moved to Oakland, CA and Xavier got caught up in street crime. A near-death encounter with masked gunmen prompted a move to L.A., where he got signed as Xavier to a $1 million contract by Interscope Records. In 1999 a car accident left him in a coma for three weeks. He moved back to Oakland, immersed himself in blues music and became Fantastic Negrito. In 2015 he won NPR's first Tiny Desk Contest and in 2017 and 2019 his albums won Grammys for Best Blues recordings. Now Fantastic Negrito is back in Western Massachusetts to play the Green River Festival with his super-charged mix of blues, rock and soul.

THE SUFFERS

The Suffers are an eight-piece Gulf Coast Soul band from Houston, Texas who took their name from the reggae movie "Rockers." This spring the band suffered a terrible tribulation when their trailer full of gear was stolen in Dallas. Fortunately, a $20,000 GoFundMe campaign reached its goal in two days and the band was able to keep touring. The warm, groovin' music of the Suffers features the outstanding lead vocalist Kam Franklin riding percolating party jams like "Do Whatever," "Peanuts" and "Make Some Room." If you like to dance, here's a chance.

THE GASLIGHT TINKERS

Gaslight Tinkers call their music "the future of the music of the past." That mobius strip of a sentence resembles their musical approach. One of their audio adventures starts with fiddler Emerald Rae and guitarist Peter Siegel playing the rousing Celtic tune "Morrison's Jig." The rhythm section adds a surprising reggae beat that morphs into a faster ska beat that flips over into the traditional "Bird's Nest." Just add a dancing audience and you've got a Gaslight Tinkers show. Along with Rae and Siegel, this Brattleboro band features Joe Fitzpatrick on drums, Garrett Sawyer on bass and I-Sha Irene Shaikly on percussion.

CEDRIC BURNSIDE

At the age of 10 Cedric Burnside started playing drums at house parties and juke joints in Northern Mississippi. When the police arrived, "They would hide us behind the beer coolers in the back," said Cedric in an interview. By age 13 Cedric was drumming at clubs with his grandfather R.L. Burnside, who spearheaded the hill country blues wave with his albums on Fat Possum Records in the 1990s. After R. L. passed, Cedric has continued the family tradition of raw, hypnotic electric blues. Performing on both drums and guitars Cedric delivers powerful, in the moment blues, or as Cedric calls it, "feel music."

MIPSO

In 2017 Rolling Stone magazine dubbed Mipso an "Artist You Need to Know." Since their song "People Change" has now racked up 40 million Spotify plays, Mipso ipso facto, is getting well known. Based out of Chapel Hill, the band formed as undergrads at UNC. The band features Joseph Terrell on guitar, Libby Rodenbough on fiddle, Jacob Sharp on mandolin and Wood Robinson on upright bass. Everybody sings with Terrell usually taking the lead. Mipso may look like a bluegrass band but their music leans more indie-folk. Inspired by their Scandinavian tour last fall they did a wonderful cover and video of "Call Your Girlfriend," the electro-pop hit by Robyn.

MAPACHE

Clay Finch and Sam Blasucci, were skateboard kids in Glendale, CA who discovered their singing voices made a gnarly blend. Now in their mid-twenties, Finch and Blasucci have formed an Americana duo called Mapache that features their glowing, sunset harmonies. Mapache rhymes with "catchy" and means raccoon in Spanish. The new Mapache EP, features gorgeous covers of songs by the Louvin Brothers, Tom Paxton and the New Riders of the Purple Sage ("Lonesome L.A. Cowboy.") Finch describes their West Coast music as, "A big sweep of the influences you encounter around here: folk and psychedelic and country and Latin and rock and cowboy and Hawaiian. We're drawing from a really deep well."

PHILIP B. PRICE

Philip B. Price is best known in these parts as the front-man of Winterpills, the dreamy folk-pop band hypnotizing audiences since 2003. Local fans also know that Price had another excellent harmony-driven rock band called The Maggies in the '90s, but it was not until 2018 with the back-catalogue release of 12 (!) solo albums did fans realize just how prolific this guy has been. A pop-music savant with a high-flying tenor voice, Price sparkles in every context. One of his songs "Freeze Your Light", was recently covered by the Young at Heart Chorus. He also plays in the band Look Park with Chris Collingwood from Fountains of Wayne. A new solo album called Bone Almanac, his first project solo since 2004, will be out this October on Signature Sounds.

CURIOUS GEORGE will rove the festival grounds and be at the Yankee Candle Village Kid's Stage on Saturday at 5:15.

TOM KNIGHT PUPPETS will delight children and their grown-ups with hand-made puppets, catchy songs, and a high degree of audience participation (Sunday, 2:30).

A FAMILY SING AND DRUM CIRCLE: Don't miss the sing and drum along led by Peter Siegel from The Gaslight Tinkers (Sunday, 5:45).

FAMILY MARDI GRAS PARADE: First, get outfitted at the Art Garden. Then join us for a festival tradition, the Mardi Gras parade, led by the Low Down Brass Band, which travels around the festival grounds (Saturday, 5:45).

TETHERED HOT AIR BALLOON RIDES: Tethered rides are 5 minutes long. Tickets can be purchased that day on the field at $10 for kids and $15 for adults.

AT THE CAMPGROUND: For kids and families at the Green River Festival campground we'll have games on the greens, a scavenger hunt, movie night, an all-camp sing, uke lessons, and more.

Thank you to Yankee Candle Village for sponsoring all of our kid's activities and music.

CAMP GREEN RIVER

SCHEDULE & MORE

Green River Festival offers tent and RV camping at the beautiful Franklin County Fairgrounds, two miles from the festival and an easy stop on the festival shuttle. The campground, which opens at noon on Thursday of festival weekend, is a big, laid-back scene with delicious food, kids' activities, morning yoga, ukulele lessons, a house stringband, and late-night performances. We have lots of open space for tents and hook-ups for RVs, plus real bathrooms and showers.

THURSDAY

- Evening Shuttles to Downtown Greenfield for Pre-fest Festivation
- Festival kickoff show at Hawks & Reed: DEERHOOF & More
- Movie Night at Camp

FRIDAY

- Afternoon Backroads Bike Expedition from Camp to Festival
- Late-Night Music: UPSTATE [see artist bio in program]

SATURDAY

- Late-Night Music: SESSION AMERICANA [see artist bio in program]

ABOUT OUR CAMP KITCHEN:

Our friends from the Florence Pie Bar will return to the Green River Festival Campground this year, with their signature sweet and savory pies, baked goods, wraps and sandwiches, salads, breakfast scones and breads, good coffee and tea, fresh fruit, cold beverages and kids' snack bags. Everything on their camp menu is under $10 and this year the kitchen is open long hours for your convenience. Don't worry about cooking in camp. Florence Pie Bar has you covered.

BERNARDSTON KIWANIS

The Bernardston Kiwanis are a long-time fixture of the Franklin County Fair. Powered by cooks from Brad's Place on Main Street in Greenfield, the Kiwanis are grilling up egg sandwiches and a sturdy cup of Joe in camp on Saturday and Sunday mornings.

Campground wristbands are required for staying or visiting camp. One-night passes are available at the front gate of camp for $34.99. Weekend passes are $69.99.

PV Squared Solar, a local worker-owned cooperative, specializes in solar design & installation for homes and businesses. We were voted the Best Solar Company in the Pioneer Valley three years in a row, and we love what we do!

We're powering the cooling tent all weekend with our solar-powered trailer. Visit us for fun give-aways, prizes, trivia and a chance to cool down from the days events while recharging your devices.

OUR COMMITMENT TO SUSTAINABILITY

Each year, The Green River Festival team deepens our commitment to sustainability and moving towards making the festival zero waste.

A team of 32 volunteers led by Montserrat Archbald, collects compost and recycling from bins across the festival grounds, hauls it back to our tent, removes any trash, and sorts it into different categories. Compost goes to Martin's Farm, recycling goes to the Greenfield DPW, and returnables are donated to a veterans' organization.

GRF has been recycling since 2008 and composting since 2012.

In 2018, trash was reduced, and composting was increased by ½ ton! We composted 1.25 more tons than we trashed!

Thank you Martin's Farm for hauling all our compostables and Franklin County Solid Waste Management District (FCSWMD) for lending us composting and recycling equipment.

ZERO PLASTIC WATER BOTTLES SOLD ON-SITE

Thanks to our partnership with Klean Kanteen, 37,000 plastic water bottles were diverted last year. Our beer is sold in reusable steel cups. Bring your own bottle or purchase a Klean Kanteen steelie to fill at one of our water stations.

USE THE BIKE VALET

More than 600 bikes were parked by Massbike's bike valets last year. Bike into the festival and use this free and easy service!

RECYCLING AND COMPOST STATIONS

You will see multiple recycling and compost stations around the festival grounds. All of our food vendors are also required to use compostable plates and utensils.

SOLAR POWERED COOLING TENT

This year, the Cooling Tent will be solar powered, thanks to our friends at PV Squared.

composting increased by 1/2 ton from 2017

0 plastic water bottles sold

12.38 cubic yards of recyclables diverted from trash

3.39 tons of compost diverted from trash

“EXCELLENT SOUND, CONSISTENCY. BREATHTAKING LOOKS. EVERY TIME I SPEAK INTO THE MIC, IT MAKES ME SMILE. THERE IS A BIGNESS TO THE SOUND THAT L1 SYSTEMS CREATE THAT CONVENTIONAL SPEAKERS CAN'T REPRODUCE. THIS IS AN IDEAL SOLUTION FOR MUSICIANS AND DJS.”

Sounds impossible.

A portable line array? People thought it couldn't be done. 15 years ago, we did it. Today, there are a lot of portable PAs that look like the L1 Portable Line Array system.

But there's only one L1.

· REAL, FRESH INGREDIENTS · WHOLE LEAF · NATURAL · ARTISAN BLENDS ·

Our pyramid tea bags are larger, and are made using a unique knitted fabric that makes for a perfect infusion!

Not only do they make a perfect cup of tea - our pyramid tea bags are also biodegradable!

Each tea bag contains two times the amount of tea as other brands - that means better flavor, and more infusions per bag, saving you money in the long run.

Because every tea bag contains twice as much tea, you're getting more vitamins, minerals, and antioxidants in every cup!
