Visit Reflection: “Lynn spoke in her school-wide assembly of the inspiration for the story, the research that went into writing the book, and the editing/revision process. Some students were shocked to learn that it took Lynn over a year to write Maxi’s Secrets. She encouraged them to keep writing and to not give up. She even spoke to the rejections she has gotten and continues to get as a writer. One student left the presentation saying, "That was awesome!" Students and staff alike have been very positive about the experience, especially as she touched upon her theme of "fitting in."
