Seasonal Collaborations are matching events – think mini Read Around the Planet. They have a curricular focus, i.e., holiday, or specific subject. They are scheduled for just a couple days and are supported with teacher packets of ideas, agendas, and tips. These classroom matching events add a dimension to a unit that extends beyond your school and community. You must be a TWICE member to participate in these events. To learn more about Seasonal Collaborations and register, go to CAPspace.

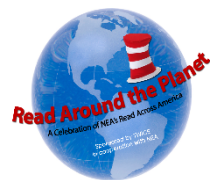

The ASK Program, (Authors Specialist, and Knowledge), provides students with the opportunity to interview an author or a knowledgeable educational specialist in the subject they are reading about in the book/novel. The program uses excellent children's literature, journal writing and interviewing via interactive video conferencing to promote reading for comprehension and understanding. Registration in CAPspace.

*Cost: $50 for TWICE Members; $100 for non-members.

Read Around the Planet, affectionately known as RAP, is a celebration of reading based on NEA's Read Across America and sponsored by TWICE. This TWICE signature event began in 2002. RAP takes place at the end of February and first part of March in conjunction with Dr. Seuss' birthday (March 2nd) and the UK's World Book Day (March 7, 2019).
