Words

Words

Some fast

Some slow

Some full of wisdom

Some full of pain and injury

Words

Words

How we talk

How we communicate

How we participate in Life

How we record our memories

How we use of words to say what we want

Words

Words

The tell lies

They tell stories

They tell who we love

They give a name to our fears

The tell all that there is to know

Words

Words

You are clear

You are sweet

You are dark, the light

You are the poetry of day

You are the beauty, and depth of night

Words

Word

My curse

My downfall

My lasting frustration

My chronic struggle of agony

My burden that I alone must bare.

Words
Words
Words I have many Flowing within
Schools of fish ready
To be released into the world.
Ready to inspire, motivate, resonate

Words
Words
Words you betray me.
As open my mouth, the poetic
Verse. Longing to be heard.
Is trampled and mutilated by
A clumsy tongue lost in phonetics and sound

Words
Words
My bane
My passion
My dysarthria
My gift from God
My battle,
I will be victorious in
I Will Win.
