Dear Company,

I am writing with regard to the global campaign to divest fossil fuel assets due to the risks associated with climate change.

A good summary of this campaign is available at: <http://www.tai.org.au/content/climate-proofing-your-investments-moving-funds-out-fossil-fuels>

A number of our clients, particularly in the philanthropic sector, are keen to ensure that they have no direct exposure to fossil fuel investments in their portfolios.

Are you able to advise if Your Company has any policies with regard to excluding investment in companies that are directly engaged in the production, distribution, or sale of thermal and metallurgical coal, gas (conventional and unconventional) and oil, and the ownership and operation of coal and gas fired power stations?

Thank you for your assistance.

Yours sincerely,

Trevor Thomas
Managing Director
