THE BESTIES ISSUE

When it comes to having (and being) a best friend I've learned that it's important to spend time together while also understanding that it's OK if days, months or even years may separate us depending on the stages of life we are in. I'm fortunate to be able to call a handful of girls my besties, and even though I wish I could see them more than I do, it makes our time spent together that much more meaningful.

This issue celebrates friendship. If you love this issue, you'll love all that we have planned for 2018! Be sure to subscribe to our printed publication so you don't miss a single feature, photo or fabulous invitation. Each issue is uniquely themed, featuring ordinary area residents who are doing extraordinary things.

"ONE OF THE MOST BEAUTIFUL QUALITIES OF TRUE FRIENDSHIP IS TO UNDERSTAND AND TO BE UNDERSTOOD." -LUCIUS ANNAEUS SENECA

These west suburban women each share a friendship so special and a bond so beautiful. Lifelong friendship is a treasure that is so valuable to the heart, mind and spirit and it the beauty if it should be celebrated always. Enjoy these stories of beautiful friendships built on love, laughter and loyalty.

Suranne Fallon and Jennifer Holloway

NAPERVILLE— Hailing from Massachusetts and England and having met six years ago through a Naperville Moms Network playdate, Suzanne and Jennifer sum up their relationship with a quote from Shanna Rodriguez, 'the great thing about new friends is that they bring energy to your soul'.

Their friendship makes them feel like giggling teenagers. They have celebrated many milestones together from having babies, Jennifer's 30th, Suzanne's 40th, and the true test of friendship, living together with their husbands and five kids, Suzie (7), Stanley (5), Sam (4), Charlotte (6), and Abigail (7) while Suzanne's family waited for their new home to close.

"Living under the same roof for a week was so much fun and I remember we ate so much froyo and drank a lot of wine," Jennifer laughs. "Not a minute goes by without her making me laugh, cry or even get crazy."

Strangely enough, the two besties are different in so many ways – Jennifer's a tall, tea drinking introvert, and Suzanne is a short, coffee drinking, social butterfly; yet, they cheer each other on in life and consider each their spirit sister

In Naperville, they love to hang out at the CUBE at Standard Market, Egg Harbor, Starbucks, and especially Hollywood Palms since its dark and no one can see them in their comfy mom clothes. When the kids grow up, they look forward to traveling to the tropics together and relaxing on the beach! Photo taken at Standard Market in Naperville. Suzanne is pictured on the left, Jennifer on the right.

Patty Wardlow and Wendy Balk

DOWNERS GROEV/WOODRIDGE—The 38 year friendship between Patty and Wendy dates all the way back to kindergarten at Meadowview School in Woodridge. The girls went to the same schools together for next twelve years, and stuck by each other's sides no matter what — like going AWOL at the nearby girl scout camp in elementary school, climbing the fence and dragging their gear home in the middle of the night. "No bugs or latrines for us," Patty says. "It was totally my idea, but Wendy was a true friend to come with me!"

Wendy recalls the same loyalty from Patty during an outdoor education trip in the fifth grade. "I was scared to do the horse riding activity, so Patty sat out and did something else with me so I wouldn't be alone."

They describe each other as strong and loyal, giving and selfless, agreeing they are not sisters by blood; but, most certainly sisters by heart, remaining Besties through every stage of life. Although life keeps them busy with travel sports and full time jobs, they enjoy getting together to catch up with a girl's night at home or boating and skiing at their lake houses in the summer. They also enjoy a night out at Emmett's or the Cellar Door in downtown Downers Grove.

"HOLD A TRUE FRIEND WITH BOTH YOUR HANDS."

-NIGFRIAN PROVERB

Mary Carol Arazan, Mellissa Di Carlo & Kristin Anderson

WHEATON-This Bestie Trio is perfectly described in JK Rowling's, Harry Potter, "Why is it that whenever anything happens, it's always you three?"

Mary Carol, Mellissa, and Kristin have 8 children between them, so their idea of fun can be as simple as a five minute adult conversation without interruption walking the kids to and from school. They all agree that Kristin can also throw some amazing lavish parties, but they most enjoy the simple pleasures of unplanned warm, summer nights sitting in the backyard until the wee hours, sipping kiddie cocktails, and hashing through life together.

"It's so nice having someone to talk to when the going gets tough; and someone to celebrate the good times with as well," Mary Carol says. "We're all going through this crazy mom thing together and supporting each other."

The past four years has reminded them that a friend is God's way of proving he doesn't want us to walk alone. "God places people in your life with perfect timing," Mellissa says. "How comforting it is to know there's someone out there in this big world, who cares about even the little things in your life?"

The ladies enjoy grabbing a quick coffee together, but appreciate the ambience and food at Fire + Wine in Glen Ellyn; the comfy seating and tasty beer at Warren's Ale House in Wheaton; and the great music at Ballydoyles in Downers Grove and Even Flow in Geneva. Photo taken at Briar Glen School in Wheaton.

Jane Rio and Georgia Koch

GLEN ELLYN-After meeting when they were both members of the Glen Ellyn Junior Woman's Club in 1975, Jane and Georgia have been friends for over 42 years. They have done it all together from having babies only three weeks apart in July 1976, to picking up compost, comforting injured children, attending family weddings, supporting each other through doctor's appointments, and enjoying the benefits of grandchildren.

One moment they may never forget is sitting at the lake while relaxing and appreciating a libation, and having a sudden visit by a snake! As one can only imagine, the years have been filled with vibrant memories while they traveled through town with their 7 boys all together.

They laugh at all the memories and both agree true friendship just happens naturally. "One meets many people, and may call many 'friends'; but, a best friend stands out," Georgia says. "It does not matter time or distance. The connection remains and does not change through good times or bad times."

These two can solve the world's problems (and their own) over a glass of wine or a cup of tea, whether in the comfort of their own homes or out at one of their favorite local places, such as Barone's or Fire + Wine in Glen Ellyn.

No matter what, both know each will always be there for the other. "If I called in the middle of the night and said "I need you now", she would come, no questions asked. She would just come." Photo taken at the Glen Oaks Restaurant In Glen Ellyn. Georgia is pictured on the left, Jane on the right.

Candice Finson and Angela Frull

SUGAR GROVE-In 1978, Candice's grandpa worked for Angie's dad at Alexander Lumber in Earlville. He introduced their moms who became best friends. The girls were only 2 and 4 at the time and neither can remember life without the other

"She stars in so many of my memories; laughing with me in the good times and helping me through the bad," Candice says. "With Angie, there is no back story needed because she knows it all, and advice is never sugar coated."

Angela says that although they may struggle to balance their separate careers and friendship circles to make time for each another, the famous quote by Elizabeth Foley sums up their relationship perfectly: "The most beautiful discovery that true friends can make is that they can grow separately without growing apart."

These ladies have kept childhood promises, such as serving as each other's Maid-of-Honor at their weddings; being at each other's side during child birth; and both currently find solace in free couch therapy session to talk about life's busyness while raising each of their two children, Landon (11), Maya (9), Robbie (7), and Mackenzie (5). When they get the chance to escape, they love to have breakfast at Apple Villa in Batavia and go craft supply shopping at Michaels in North Aurora.

Health Trends

Live Your Best Lifestyle

As we follow the health and lifestyle trends going into the new year, it seems besides the ever-changing group exercise classes and cardio machines, there is a lean toward a more complete health plan, inside and out. Stress management, rejuvenation of energy, pain management and feeling balanced are topping the lists. There are several facilities popping up all over the western suburbs to cater to these needs. The following shines a light on just a few of the services that seem to be gaining popularity.

Floating – Floating is a sensory deprivation relaxation experience. Individuals will have their own darkened room or pod and lie in 10 inches of skin temperature water that is combined with hundreds of pounds of healing Epsom salts which allows a body to float effortlessly. "It's the stillness that puts the body into a deep meditative state," says Lindsay Reinhart, Co-Owner of Annica Float Club in Naperville. "It truly helps with stress management and lowering blood pressure." This restorative treatment helps clear the mind same as meditation. Many people also use it to enhance creativity and solving problems.

Infrared Sauna — As opposed to the traditional sauna, which uses heat to warm the air, which in turn warms your body, an infrared sauna heats your body directly without warming the air around you. This may appeal to those who cannot tolerate the heat of a conventional sauna. The infrared sauna uses infrared rays similar to those given off by the sun and can penetrate directly into your skin to activate sweat glands and cause water molecules in our cells to vibrate and release toxins. The benefits of this therapy include lower blood pressure, boosted immune system, increased metabolism and weight loss, and an improvement in skin appearance.

Salt Therapy Room/Caves — In the mid-1800's, doctors discovered workers in the salt mines in Poland had excellent respiratory health. Researchers have since concluded that the healing properties of the dry salt aerosol helps clear toxins and pollutants in the lungs and nasal passages to help boost the immune system. Leah Jenski, the owner of the Salternative Spa in Geneva explains their unique halotherapy within their salt rooms. "Our halo generator grinds up the salts into tiny particles that you breathe in. It puts you into 'relaxation response' which tells your body 'all is well' and it can take the time to work on healing." Sitting in a room inhaling the healing properties of the salt for even 20 to 30 minutes could offer strong benefits.

Acupuncture – Ancient Chinese secret? You bet. Acupuncture, a form of Chinese medicine, has been around a very long time, but just recently we are starting to see it pop up in many wellness institutes and spas in conjunction with other therapies. Acupuncture is the use of hair-thin needles to stimulate the central and peripheral nervous systems that trigger the body's natural healing abilities and the release of certain brain chemicals, such as endorphins. Among other benefits, this therapy can improve the circulatory system, improve digestion, reduce frequency and severity of headaches, lower blood pressure and pain relief.

Pam Osbourne, Naperville CONNECTIONS: ANIMAL ASSISTED THERAPY FOR ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE AND RELATED DIMENTIAS

Rufus is Pam Osbourne's therapy dog. Together, they visit hospitals to provide affection and comfort to patients. When Pam's mother was diagnosed with Alzheimer's Disease, it was the connection she had with Rufus that made a light bulb go off for Pam. "My mom was given some functional fitness rehab exercises and Rufus was able to provide motivation by doing the exercises with her," says Pam. "Not only did SHE benefit, but other residents in her community were encouraged by Rufus to move, talk and communicate."

Inspired by what Rufus and her mom accomplished together, Pam was driven to write, Connections: Animal Assisted Therapy for Alzheimer's Disease and Related Dementias, a user-friendly guide for Animal Assisted Therapy teams, health care professionals, family members, and caregivers. A major portion of the book is devoted to specific activities that can be used to stimulate cognition, reinforce motor skills and create meaningful interactions. It includes over 40 Animal Assisted Therapy Activities and 150 color photographs. It is set in the context of a sometimes funny, sometimes heart-breaking story line that describes Pam's own personal journey with her mom and Rufus.

Connections: Animal Assisted Therapy for Alzheimer's Disease and Related Dementias is available online through Amazon and Barnes and Noble and Pam's website, pyowpublishing.webs.com. –Mindy Kyle

CHALLENGE TO THE MAX

Like you, when I'm sitting on my couch watching T.V., I often look at shows like American Ninja Warrior and think to myself - "oh, I could do that one for sure"; and if I was saying it, you cerknow the tainly teenagers in my house were practically shouting it at the television. So we were super excited to check out the new Ultimate Ninjas facility in Naperville which boasts replica equipment from the show.

We arrogantly stepped up to the ring swings and trapeze and quickly plopped to the ground and laughed. Wow! So simple was actually quite hard in real life! We next maneuvered our way deeper into the gym and tested our skills at the Salmon Ladder, Cannonball Alley, Devil Steps, Cliff Hanger, Floating Ledges, Cargo Net, and others, finding each one a tad more challenging, yet purely entertaining. They then offered up a prize to for making our way from one side of the rock climbing wall to the other; so, we eagerly thought we had a shoe-in for the win, until we discovered there were no hand grips on the rocks!

Last on our list was the Warped Wall! This was quite possibly our favorite perhaps because we actually conquered the wall and got to the top to ring the bell! There is indeed a secret to getting to the top, but figuring it out is half the fun!

If you have little ones, there are also open gyms for kids 6+ and coaches are available for spotting and assisting the kids through the course, making this an engaging form of exercise and play for all ages and skill levels.

Overview

Inspired by the hit television show American Ninja Warrior on NBC, Ultimate Ninjas offers a wide variety of obstacle courses for kids and adults of every age and skill level. They have an agility course. swinging ropes, monkey bars, quintuple steps, climbing and warped walls among other exciting obstacles. There is also find a large gym area for basketball, soccer, floor hockey and dodge ball.

MEGA FUN AT MEGA CAVERNS

Hi All.

It's Brooke and I am beyond excited to tell you about an epic experience that I had on our drive home from Nashville. We made a pit stop at Mega Caverns in Louisville, Kentucky. My mom didn't tell me much about it, and honestly when we pulled up, I was confused. I knew we were going ziplining, so my eyes were fixed on the treetops. Boy, was I definitely looking in the wrong direction!

At Mega Caverns, you will be ziplining in dark caves a hundred feet beneath the earth's surface! I didn't even realize this was a thing and it is apparently the only one in the entire world! How cool is that?!

Our guides spent a good 20 minutes going over safety instructions and ensuring our equipment was properly in place. The age range of people in our group was 8-year-olds to about 60 year-olds, and there was a mix of people who had never zipped to those who had ample experience. We had two French exchange students with us who had both never zip lined before and were quite apprehensive to say the least. Nevertheless, everyone felt completely safe the entire time. The tour lasted 2 1/2 hours and each second was mind-blowing and blood-tingling!

With our miner's helmets on, we headed deep into the dark caverns after practicing on the bunny zip. There are a total of six ziplines and each one offers something unique. All had incredible scenery. If you are terrified of heights, like my mom, your knees may be a bit weak, because you will definitely be up high, but the guides will make sure to help you muster up the courage to take flight. They are also quite funny and put you at ease.

Thrilling suspension bridges and glowing colorful lights mixed with total darkness and a mysterious aura await you as you zoom across hundreds of feet of cable. You even get to see your shadow as you zip across the gorges. Just being in the cave itself was amazing—hearing the water flowing, seeing the budding stalactites, learning about the history of the caverns—a total exhilarating and one-of-a-kind experience!

Only five hours from Chicago, Mega Caverns is absolutely a must do for your family. Be prepared to say "WOW" a lot!

Teens and Epilepsy

Teenagers are facing many challenges: the typical burden of schoolwork, sports performance, hormonal changes and the ever-present peer pressure. Adolescents who suffer from seizure disorders (and their parents) find themselves in particularly difficult and emotionally charged situations. It is important for parents to encourage their child to take a more active role in managing his/her condition while helping their teenager navigate through the pressures of high school years. Working with an epilepsy specialist who offers diet modification therapies and medication management, is one of the best ways for adolescents with epilepsy to transition into adulthood with a comprehensive care plan.

WHY SEE HAMILTON? CHICAGO'S VERY OWN BROADWAY SENSATION!

If you haven't seen it yet, you might be wondering why it is so popular among your friends and family, and also the winner of 11 Tony awards. Dubbed the biggest Broadway show since The Book of Mormon, Hamilton is now playing in Chicago, for an open ended run at the CIBC Theatre.

Written by Tony, Grammy and Emmy Award winner Lin-Manuel Miranda, Hamilton is a vital piece of American culture, tearing up the musical theatre rulebook with a score that is equal parts Sondheim and Notorious B.I.G., and a cast of ethnically diverse actors in the roles of the Founding Fathers. The story centers on Alexander Hamilton, one of our most important (and colorful) characters, who rose from his humble orphaned beginnings to play a major role in making America the country it is today.

Hamilton made its New York debut Off-Broadway at the Public Theater in 2015, where it was met with universal acclaim and was extended three times due to public demand. It lost none of its potency in the subsequent Broadway transfer, with Ben Brantley of the New York Times writing it was "changing the language of musicals". In 2016, It was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for Drama and scooped 11 Tony Awards.

About the Show

One of the Founding Fathers, Alexander Hamilton's story is an extraordinary one. Born out of wedlock in the West Indies, and orphaned by the time he was 11, he arrived in New Jersey in 1772 to begin his grammar school education. From there he played a major role in the American revolutionary war, rising through the ranks to become an aide to George Washington. But that was only the beginning of the great man's story, with the proceeding chapters in his life taking in everything from sex scandals, fatal duels and the creation of the American Constitution.

Did You Know?

Hamilton didn't just conquer the stage, it took over the airwaves too! Its Grammy nominated Cast Recording was the highest charting album of its kind since 1963.

The U.S. Army All-American Marching Band Selects Emily Wilkinson of Naperville Central High School

Emily Wilkinson (Naperville, Illinois, Naperville Central High School) was officially selected as a 2018 U.S. Army All-American during a celebratory selection event at his school, joining an elite group of marching band members who will perform during halftime at the 2018 U.S. Army All-American Bowl Presented by American Family Insurance. Emily is the first student from NCHS to be selected for this honor.

"Being a successful band member not only requires great skill, but also a commitment to teamwork," said Elizabeth F. Wilson, deputy assistant secretary of the Army for marketing. "To be an Army All-American requires students to excel musically and academically, but most importantly, as young people of character. The U.S. Army is proud to honor all of our talented 2018 U.S. Army All-American Marching Band members and commend each of them on their selection to this elite group."

The U.S. Army All-American Marching Band recognizes the top 125 high school senior marching musicians and color guard members from across the country. The All-American Bowl consistently draws an annual crowd upwards of 40,000 to the Alamodome and is the most-watched high school sporting event of each year, with 5.1-million viewers tuning in to last year's broadcast. The Bowl will be nationally televised, live on NBC at 12:00 Noon CST on Saturday, January 6, 2018.

"As the official champion of Dreams, American Family is honored to salute these All-Americans as they work hard to pursue their dreams with the encouragement of family, coaches, friends, and the their communities," said Telisa Yancy, chief marketing officer for American Family Insurance. "These All-Americans embody what American Family Insurance stands for – hard work, inspiration, dedication, and committed support from those around them make any dream achieved possible."

For 18 years, the U.S. Army All-American Bowl has been the nation's premier high school all-star event and football game, serving as the preeminent launching pad for America's future college and NFL stars. Odell Beckham Jr., Andrew Luck, Eric Berry, Tim Tebow, and Sam Darnold are just some who made their national debuts as U.S. Army All-Americans. A total of 351 U.S. Army All-American alumni have been selected in NFL Drafts. Last year's Bowl drew an all-time record crowd of 40,568 to the Alamodome. WEST SUBURBAN EDIBLES TO LOVE

Savory & Sweet Sisters

Café On The Park 225 N. Cross St. Wheaton (224) 443-9679 www.cafeontheparkwheaton.com Owner: Pete Leonard Manager: David Rowan

A CAFÉ WITH A PURPOSE

Sitting with Pete Leonard over-looking Adams Park in Wheaton, the word intentionality kept coming up. Leonard, owner of Café on the Park, shared the journey of how he got to this moment. His love of coffee started at age 12. Years later on a church mission trip to Brazil, watching a man roasting coffee over a fire set him on a mission of his own. To roast coffee the way he liked it. A self-declared techno geek Leonard designed a mechanism to roast coffee on his grill. I Have a Bean coffee was born. Needing more space Leonard set out to open a roasting company. Witnessing someone close to him face employment challenges because of a prison term, he set out to help. Offering post prison people a job, training and a reference enables them to be successful in other endeavors. From that idea Second Chance Coffee Company began.

As popularity of his specialty coffee grew so did the idea of having a café located adjacent to the Wheaton library. Tucked between Adams Park and the library, they make a perfect partnership with patrons being able to have a beverage delivered right to their seat while studying.

Whether it is the fresh baked from scratch daily pastries, the locally sourced 1871 Dairy milk, sauces and syrups made in house, Italian ceramics or the best medium roasted coffee made with beans sourced from the top one percent from the 87 coffee growing regions; Leonard's passion for perfection and his love of quality is evident. Just a few of our favorites are the Roast beast wrap with the in house horseradish cream or the vegetarian croissant with the honey mustard. Our favorite beverages were the Cubano Liso which is a combination of smooth sugar in the raw, cinnamon, and espresso and any Steep it Real tea. Stop by to experience the best cinnamon rolls although they are only available on Sundays. Another sweet sensation is the chocolate chocolate donut with heath toppings.

Café on the Park is an ideal location to get lost in a book or watch the snow fall while sipping exquisite coffee. This café has a purpose as Pete Leonard believes elevating coffee while redreaming lives—one bean at a time.

ABOUT THE CRITICS Stephanie (right) & Tiffany (left) Schmoker are west suburban sisters who have always shared a love for dining out and they also enjoy cooking together. They came from a family of 7 and grew up on farm with fresh fruits, veggies and more. Watch for their review of a different west suburban restaurant in each issue of Glancer Magazine. ## Following In Her Mother's Footsteps, Meet Christine Thompson, Local Real Estate Influencer

Story by Kristen Kucharski

A second-generation Realtor who is also an ex-advertising executive, Christine draws on her unique upbringing and experience to deliver a special balance of insight and effec-

"I've been a Realtor® since I was ten years old. My mom was (and still is) a real estate broker," Christine says. "While growing up, I sat at my mom's office after school and did my homework. When a client or potential client walked in. I absorbed it all. I tagged along on tours and open houses. I had no idea I was in training; being a broker is my biological inheritance. You could say it's in my Christine values her roots. Her mother experienced great challenges growing up in WWII Germany; yet, she refused to let those incredible hardships get in the way of achieving her dreams as she led the way to becoming a Top Ten Illinois Realtor in the 1980's and proceeded to get her five children through college debt free!

"The challenges I personally come across seem minuscule in comparison to my mother's hardships, so that makes me realize I have the strength to handle any difficulty that comes my way," Christine says.

Because of Christine's upbringing, she knows the importance of being an expert with all technical aspects of the business, but realizes the importance of the emotional side. "I'm the erudite Realtor®, who knows you're human and that's why my work style is so exceptionally client-centered," she says.

"I understand your property represents more than just a place for you to call home - it's a real-life dream for yourself and for your family." And when it's time to sell, Christine will move heaven and earth (and plenty of furniture) to ensure a seamless experience.

She utilizes target marketing resources that zero in on appropriate buyers with discernment. She has access to a separate, broad reaching INTERNATIONAL MLS system, which expands her homes' exposure beyond a regular MLS posting. The results are excellence; driven by passion.

All of the reasons above are probably why Christine became one of the first recipients of the prestigious Certified Luxury Home Marketing Specialist (CLHMS) designation and maintains her Founder's Club position. You can count on her having all of the certifications and designations that will enable her to exceed your expectations.

"I'm proud of my tangible accomplishments, but the intangibles mean more to me," Christine says. "There really is no feeling like having a happy client; so, at the end of the day, you can rest assured that my passion around this business is second to none."

Personal Training

Is breakfast as important as people say?

Yes breakfast is that important for many reasons. Research has shown that those who miss out on breakfast generally eat more later in the day and generally lose less fat. Breakfast ideally would be one of your larger meals during the day. The emphasis should be protein heavy. Eggs any way, smoothies with protein and fruit, steel cut oatmeal with nuts and protein power all are great options. If you workout in the morning that you should eat this type of meal after your workout. If you need something prior to a morning workout go with a bar or a few almonds.

ABOUT THE WRITER Hank Ebeling is the Owner and Lead Coach at H4 Training. His training systems have helped countless clients achieve their goals and get into the best shape of their lives.
