

Penn Soil Resource Conservation and Development Council

210 North Drive, Suite E, Warren, PA 16365

814-726-1441; 814-406-0005 – fax

email: pennsoilrcd@wccconservation.net

www.pennsoil.org

Sustainable Ranching & Regenerative Grazing Course

SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION

Administered by Penn Soil RC&D
In cooperation with PA Grazing Lands Coalition
And USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service

Name: _____ Telephone number _____

Address: _____

Email address: _____

I currently reside in _____ County, _____ State.

Information Concerning the Training Requested:

Name of training course: Sustainable Ranching & Regenerative Grazing

Who will provide the training? Jim Elizondo & Johann Zietsman

Location of the Training: Riverview Farms, Tidioute, PA

Date(s) of the Training: July 23-25, 2015

Cost of Tuition for the Training Requested: $500 per student

Estimated Travel expense for you to attend: _____

Are you currently operating a livestock farm? _____ IF SO, Please describe the history of your current operation in terms of the number of animals involved, acres farmed, and what type of feeding system or grazing

Please list any other formal training on grazing management or livestock management that you have previously taken: _____

Please return completed application form to Penn Soil RC&D Council by June 1, 2015 or as soon as possible for the most consideration;

210 North Drive, Suite E; Warren, PA 16365

Telephone: 814-726-1441 Fax Number 814-406-0005

Email: pennsoilrcd@wccconservation.net

Award policy

A minimum of six scholarship awards of $150 will be awarded with the highest priority given to PA residents. The scholarships will be tentatively awarded by letter on or about June 10, 2015, with the actual funds to be issued as a partial tuition reimbursement or rebate after the completion of the 3 day course. Scholarship recipients must turn in a course completion report along with a copy of the receipts for tuition and travel expenses to receive a rebate check. Applications for the available scholarships will be reviewed and prioritized as of the initial screening date of June 1, 2015, and all available scholarships may be awarded based on the applications received. Applications received after June 1, 2015 may still be considered, however, awards may be subject to available funds, and are not guaranteed.