

Young Entrepreneur's Contest

Are you looking for an opportunity to put your business skills to the test? The Flushing BID is hosting a contest in conjunction with its Second Annual Street Festival to introduce high school and college students to the world of entrepreneurship. There will be two levels of competition, High School and College, and one winner will be selected from each. Winners will receive one 10ft x 10ft tent, one table, and two chairs at the Street Festival, an award certificate, publicity, and the chance to do business at a prime high traffic location. Winners will be allowed to keep any revenue they make.

All entrants are required to complete a registration form. Entrants must submit a basic revenue and expense report listing the estimated costs of running their business, and revenues. In addition, entrants must submit a 2-3 paragraph summary of their business plan, and how they expect to turn a profit at the Street Festival. Each of these elements should be no more than one page with the name, level, and school of the entrant at the top of each page.

Judging will be based on organization (30%), feasibility (30%), profitability (30%), and creativity (10%). The deadline for submissions is 11:59PM June 26, 2015. Winners will be announced on the Flushing BID website during the first week of July, and winners also will be emailed.
