SHORTER GAME PLAY OPTIONS

We understand that a long game doesn't always fit in to our busy schedules. There are endless combinations of how RINGLEADER can be played, these are just a few options for a shorter game. Use any of these options along with the general rules of play, and you will have a shorter, but equally as exciting game! Players often add in their own rules to make the game a little more personalized. Remember, in the instructions it states: "players can choose to add or alter the rules if all players agree...it is a dealer game, so make deals!" Do you have your own version that you use when playing with your friends & family?...if so, we would love to hear about it. Post any of your custom rules to any of our social media networks for other players to use or gather ideas from.
