

Picturesque & Peaceful Kyoto

The best off-the-path summer spots!

Amethyst Course

① Fujinomori Shrine

It is among those rare shinto temples that enshrines militant deities, so it was very popular among warriors. It is also famous for its colorful gardens, where hydrangeas are blooming in June.

② Jōnan-gū Shrine

The Shrine was built to protect Kyoto from the South, but later it became well-known of its beautifully maintained garden that offers the view of great variety of plants throughout the year.

③ Mimuroto-ji Temple

Its alley is covered with well-tended, lovely gardens and numerous flower species are set among the pine trees. Its mind-calming environment and the blossoming Rhododendrons will surely relieve you from any stress.

④ Daigo-ji Temple

Not only the World Heritage five-story pagoda but the well-preserved wall paintings and national treasures will also keep your mind busy here. There are so much to see besides the refreshingly green garden!
