

The first business platform to manage Diversity and Inclusion

The Problem

Leaders report challenges with D&I:¹

67% don't know what to measure

80% lack D&I targets

73% of employees report no benefit from their D&I programs

Why It's Important

Benefits of inclusive cultures include:

8 X better business outcomes²

6 X improvement in agility and innovation²

as well as improved talent acquisition, retention, brand and reputation³

Why OurOffice

OurOffice provides an innovative approach based on insights derived from our deep experience in business and people management at iconic organizations across various industries:⁴

#1 D&I can be managed as a business priority (like quality or sales), with data, accountability and action

#2 D&I is everyone's job, from top executives to first-line supervisors and peers, not just HR's

#3 improving D&I is good for everyone, not just the "diverse" groups of employees

Who Uses OurOffice

OurOffice empowers leaders throughout the organization to contribute to D&I goals and strategy. These include top executives, business leaders, HR / D&I leads and champions, as well as middle and front-line management.
