

Directions

Jesus was all about community and relationships. He extends an invitation to each of us to come to the table and break bread together, to learn from each other and provide a safe place to be real, non judgmental and filled with grace.

In return He asks for us to also extend the invitation to those longing to belong, to be welcomed, embraced and loved. As is. We were designed for community.

The Fall Retreat Team wishes to invite the young and the older to Come to the Table.

Erica Jones will present a separate track throughout the weekend for young women, ages 18 –21. She comes with a passion and desire to empower young women in their journey of life.

All who are hungry and thirsty and empty inside are welcome. All who are looking for hope and grace are welcome. All the chained, all the free, all who loved and lost another, all who dream, all who suffer, all who've been labeled right or wrong, come take your place beside the Savior. Come sit down and be set free.

You are welcome here!

Denise Reinwald is a Certified and Licensed Massage Therapist who resides on that “not quite sure how it’s pronounced square of your Monopoly board—Reading PA. She spends her days gratefully ministering to the needs of those who live with chronic pain. Her own journey of healing has profoundly reshaped the contours of the face of her King. She’s a reader, a globe trotter, a singer of songs and a teller of stories. She loves words; their power to create and recreate. These are the tools she uses to reveal the strength, love and loyalty of her God.

Erica Jones currently serves as the Assistant Director of Women’s Ministries for the North American Division. Her primary ministry is working with teen girls and developing resources that address the real issues they face. She also dedicates time to the continuing emphasis in Women’s Ministries on abuse prevention and education. One of Erica’s greatest desires is to empower young women to have the tools to make wise choices in their relationships, recognizing that the choices they make now will impact them for their entire lives. She lives in Howard Country, Maryland, with her cat and two horses.
