John Sarbanes is the eldest son of former U.S. Senator Paul Sarbanes (who represented the 3rd Congressional District from 1971 to 1977) and Christine Dunbar Sarbanes, a teacher. He was born in Baltimore, having Greek origin on his father's side and English on his mother's, and graduated from the Gilman School there in 1980.

He received a B.A., cum laude, from the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University in 1984 and a Juris Doctor from Harvard Law School, where he was co-chair of the Law School Democrats, in 1988.

After college, Sarbanes clerked with Baltimore Judge J. Frederick Motz on the U.S. District Court for the District of Maryland. Sarbanes spent his professional legal career at the law firm of Venable LLP in Baltimore from 1989 to 2006, where he was chair of health care practice from 2000 to 2006 and a member of the hiring committee from 1992 to 1996.

Indivisible14

Indivisible14 was created in the wake of the Women's March, in the winter of 2017. A diverse group of women in Maryland's State Legislative District 14 got together with a simple purpose: to stop the Trump Agenda. Indivisible14 is non-partisan. We are not affiliated with any political party. We are just a group of concerned citizens looking to ban together to make our voices heard.
