Clinic Details:

Zealous Sailing Limited will provide high level coaching support for sailors before and during the Magic Marine Regatta, held on Lake Braassemermeer, Netherlands.

Zealous Optimist Clinic offers a unique and innovative approach to coaching, offering sailors specialist tips on international techniques and tactics performed by the very top Optimist sailors around the world. This knowledge has been acquired through coaching experience in New Zealand and Finland, producing a number of national champions, IODA World representatives as well as Top 50 IODA World results.

April 11-12 training will run between 0900 – 1700 and will include a combination of fitness, on the water training and theory lessons. This training is designed to prepare the sailors for the up and coming 4-day Easter competition.

The training will be run out of Noorderhem 1, Roelofarendsveen, Netherlands. The same venue as the regatta. We recommend that sailors stay close by, either in a nearby rental house or next door university town, Liden.

The regatta coaching will be run according to the time-table set in the Notice of Race. This is yet to be published.

The event website can be found here...

On Tuesday 11 April will begin with a welcome and briefing at 0930 at the yacht club. Sailors need to be rigged but not in sailing gear. Sailors are expected to have good quality sailing equipment and gear appropriate for the conditions.

Registration for the Zealous Coaching closes October 31 2016, with full payment of €435 required. On November 1 a detailed programme will be emailed out to clinic participants.

Sailors are required to be a member of a registered yacht club as well as appropriate third-party boat insurance.
