A New Mobile Clinic Event Management Solution Used to Support Medical Personnel and First Responders in a Wide Spectrum of Public Health Events is Released by Elliott Data Systems, Inc.

The Elliott Clinic Manager Solution (ECMS) is now available to be implemented as part of a complete Mobile Solutions™ event management solution used to support public health activity by enrolling patients, managing medication and supply distribution as well as providing complete management of assets such as equipment or other items used by personnel. Health department personnel, emergency first responders or volunteers can track patients from the time they enter a public health event to the time they exit using the Elliott Clinic Manager Solution.

St. Louis, MO June 1, 2011 – Elliott Clinic Manager Software is released as part of a comprehensive Mobile Solutions™ event management solution that also includes the Emergency Event Manager and Asset Manager solutions. This complete solution is tailored to focus on administering patient enrollment, medication dispensing and asset management with the ability to track, manage and report on this information at any time. ECMS is a scalable solution that may assist personnel such as health departments or emergency first responders with managing anything from routine flu vaccination events to a more extensive emergency response. ECMS is a mobile solution allowing personnel to manage events at any location with the ability to enroll patients as they enter, dispense medication and supplies and then checkout patients as they leave the event. ECMS also has the ability to provide complete POD management to better track and manage supplies coming and going from an event.

Elliott Data Systems, Inc., the expert in the development and integration of the Mobile Solutions™ line of identification and accountability solutions, has worked with health department personnel to create this new solution as an addition to their Emergency Management Solution used by first responders nationwide. Clinic Manager is tailored to meet the specific needs of medical personnel during any type of event supporting activity such as quick on-site patient enrollment, providing dynamic medical questionnaires, producing Face Sheets with a barcode used to tie patients to medication/supplies dispensing, grouping family members to prevent issuing duplicates, managing medication by lot, NDC#, unique ID, and expiration date to make inventory management easy and efficient, and so much more. Elliott believes departments of all sizes will find this solution to support an efficient and secure workflow process that will support the administration of public health service to communities across the country.

Elliott Clinic Manager in conjunction with the Emergency Event Manager and Asset Manager Solutions has the flexibility to be integrated with other companion products such as the Mobile Command Case, Mobile Tracking Devices, and Data Server to create a specific Mobile Solutions™ configuration. To learn more about Elliott Clinic Manager and all of its companion products, request an estimate, schedule an online meeting or watch Mobile Solutions™ videos, visit www.elliottmobilesolutions.com.
