Erin Doffoney, Rdh BAS

Technology & Technique Speaker, Educator and Clinician

My great passion is to bring skill, comfort and care through dental hygiene to people who've had compromising dental experiences that have gone untreated.

I know there is no single approach that is the right one for everyone, so I have been trained in a range of modalities including Soft Tissue Management, Paradigm Shifts in Technology, Clinical Behavior as well as Clinical Verbiage and Technique.

My educational and professional background includes a Bachelor of Applied Science Degree from Clayton College & State University, Dental Hygiene Board Certified & Licensed in Georgia and California, with Certification in Local Anesthesia, Nitrous Oxide and Curettage, a proud member of the American Dental Hygienists' Association (ADHA), National Association of Professional Women (NAPW) and a sponsor of AACD's Give Back A Smile program.

Erin delivers a message of inspiration, compassion and learning that is geared to not only her peers, but her patients as well.

-Julie Motlagh, Ranstad

Erin is very attentive to detail, hardworking, and her motivation to succeed is outstanding.
