Dear Parents and Dancers,

We're pleased to announce our 2017/2018 schedule and registration are now available online! TPDA also warmly welcomes new faculty members- Melissa Cheston, Jen Kline, Sydney Pearson, Mindy Snyder, and Lea Valentine. A new dance season on the horizon brings new opportunities at the studio; this year, intermediate and advanced ballet students have the opportunity to audition for our Ballet Conservatory. This class will perform select pieces and attend Nationals. We are also offering an online store and inviting friends to a Bring A Friend To Dance week. Before all that, don't forget we still have one more week of Summer classes! Tuesday classes also have class on August 15th to make up for the 4th of July holiday.

NEW! Curtain Call for Class

Take the guess work out of what to wear. We've added an online store to make it easy for parents to find what their dancers need for class. In addition to fulfilling our costume needs, our Curtain Call for Class program offers quality classwear and dance accessories. Check out our online store here. There's not much there now, but as we get closer to the 2017/2018 season we'll be adding recommendations for many of our classes. Stay tuned!

In the meantime, remember all ballet classes require solid color leotards, clean pink tights, pink ballet shoes and hair pulled back neatly in a bun with bobby pins and a hair net.

Bring A Friend To Class Week

October 9th-13th

Have a friend interested in dance? Bring them to class for our Bring A Friend To Dance Week! We'll announce classes open to friends and send home a postcard closer to October.

During the parent meeting, students will participate in some fellowship and dance activities. Please have them wear comfortable dance attire.
