

TO ALL MEMBERS OF NSWAFI

You are invited to attend a members-only Education Night run by the NSW Association of Fire Investigators Inc., on the subject of:

Who says you're a Fire Investigator?

A presentation by Mr Ross Brogan on NFPA 921 & 1033 and what these two documents mean to the professional standing within our industry and before the Court.

The NSWAFI has long advanced the recognition of 921 and 1033 as the basis of a recognised fire investigator. This talk will present NSWAFI Members with an insight into contemporaneous developments in the United States, where these documents originated, and how critically important their standing has become around the world.

Ross is well known to most of our members after many years of service within the fire investigation sphere and particularly from his support of the NSWAFI.

His liaison with the IAAI and his attendance on many conferences in the USA gives him tremendous expertise in this area. We are grateful to be able benefit from his insights. This night will be not only be educational but entertaining as he explains how unaware most lawyers and the Courts are to the emergence of 921 & 1033 as "the Bible" of fire investigation.
