

The Circle was the first time that I had really released emotionally, and had gotten in touch with my authentic self.

Amanda Asque, Program Assistant

The Value of the Circle

At the start of each class, all HHH participants are invited to join in the circle. The circle creates a safe space where everyone is equal and deserving of respect and dignity. In the circle, all barriers are removed. Each individual is given the freedom to be themselves and to build healthy relationships among members of the circle and the wider community.

Through the restorative power of music, the circle process embodies the HHH core values of compassion, respect, inclusivity and personal growth that we model every day.
