

Eastfield Primary School

Governing Body's Statement of the Aims of the School Curriculum

The purpose of the curriculum is:

- To define a learning entitlement for all pupils
- To serve the needs of all pupils
- To make explicit, the expected outcomes from the educational process

The Governing Body expects Eastfield Primary School to provide a curriculum which guarantees that all pupils are entitled to:

- Equality of opportunity, regardless of gender, race or ability
- Be taught in an environment conducive to learning
- Be taught by teachers who are trained and qualified
- Have account taken of their individual needs
- Access adequate resources to support their individual learning needs
- Acquire a broad range of skills and knowledge to equip them for current or future roles