The Ultimate Guide: Teaching Phonics to Struggling Readers and those with Dyslexia

by Maryann Chatfield

Teacher Notes

The alphabet is broken down into sequences.
One group for Player 1 and another for Player 2.

Each player faces one another.

The "AlphaChunks" are displayed, so everyone can see the list.

Choose one student to pick the 'red' letters to recite and one to pick the 'black' letters.

Have the students toss a ball back and forth
while reciting the chunks one at a time.

As time progresses, the students will refer to the chart less and less.

When he/she is writing, they may be able to remember the letters in this sequence thereby making it easier to write the alphabet.

Have Fun!
